Attlee Arrives In Washington To Confer Of New Crisis In Korea

Prime Minister Met At Airport By President

Attlee Arrives In Washington This Morning For Parley

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—British Prime Minister Attlee arrived in Washington today for crisis talks with President Truman and declared that the Communists are "wasting their effort" in attempting to "drive a wedge" between the United States and Britain.

Mr. Truman was at the Washington National Airport to meet Attlee, whose plane landed at 9:41 a.m. (EST). After a brief private conversation with the president, the prime minister pledged that the U. S. and Britain will stand shoulder to shoulder against the threat of a new world war.

Atmosphere of Tension

Attlee spoke in an atmosphere of tension increased by reports that Britain, backed by France, will urge the United States to withdraw from Korea if that is the only way to avoid an all-out war with Communist China.

The prime minister said:

"I am very glad to come to Washington at this critical time to confer with President Truman.

"For many years past Great Britain and the United States have been agreed on the broad objectives of their international policy—the maintenance of peace, resistance to aggression, the improvement of living standards in all countries, the upholding of the Democratic way of life.

"These objectives are again in

U.N. Forces Are Evacuating City Of Pyongyang

Roads South From City Crowded With Dense Traffic Lines

By LEE FERRERO
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

PYONGYANG, Dec. 4.—Belching clouds of black smoke, licked by flames and punctuated by explosives, rose over Pyongyang today as Eighth Army troops applied the torch to the former Red capital of North Korea.

As United Nations troops evacuated Korea's oldest city the town awaited its third conquest in four centuries by Chinese troops.

U. S. Army engineers, using explosives and gasoline, were methodically wrecking the town in accordance with the "scorced earth" policy of leaving the city as badly damaged as they found it six weeks ago.

Pyongyang's civilian population also awaited uneasily for the Communist hordes, whose spearheads were only a few miles outside the city.

Particularly Uneasy

Those who had welcomed the U. N. forces as liberators and had cooperated with them were particularly uneasy as to their fate when the town again comes under the Communist Sickle and Hammer.

One instance of Red fifth column activity and revenge had been brought home sickenly to correspondents.

The body of an English-speaking North Korean boy, who had been helpful to the newsmen a few weeks ago, was found.

His skull was crushed and his

U.S. Troops Are Battling To Get Out Of Traps

Some U.S. Forces Fight Part Way Out Of Pocket

By IRVING R. LEVINE
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

SEOUL, Dec. 5—(Tuesday)—The bulk of the United Nations forces today began forming a new defense line somewhere north of the 38th parallel after a successful withdrawal from Pyongyang in the face of vanguards of a million-man Chinese Red Army.

Rearguard groups of U. N. troops in the outflanked North Korean capital and north of it covered the retreat with little enemy contact.

On the northeast front elements of the vast Red Army drove toward the coast in attempts to seal off more Allied units in that area.

Near the flaming city of Pyongyang enemy patrols probed to within seven miles of the capital but most of the estimated 15 Chinese division in the area were still farther north.

Seek To Break Traps

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's two principal combat forces—the Eighth Army in the west and the 10th Corps in the east—struggled to break out of enemy traps already sprung or escape others in the making.

American and other UN troops of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker's Eighth Army were engaged in a full-scale withdrawal from flaming Pyongyang as Communist columns swung deeply around the inland flank of Korea's most ancient city.

Enemy re-occupation of the former North Korean Red capital was considered late Monday to be but a matter of hours, with Red enveloping units already 34 miles southeast of the metropolis.

As the retreating Eighth Army forces rolled south from Pyongyang behind a covering screen of rear guard units, fires blazed in the sprawling city from "scorched earth" demolitions of equipment and installations.

Fight Part Way Out

On the peninsula's opposite side, U. S. marines and soldiers of Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond's 10th Corps fought part of the way out of a Red pocket in northeast Korea's Changjin reservior area.

But enemy flanking forces, striking to close a still larger trip, thrust at the inland gateway junction at Majon, 15 miles west-southwest of the vital eastern port of Wonsan. This is more than 90 miles south of the forward 10th Corps units.

With renewed audacity, Soviet-type jet planes reappeared Monday in Korean skies for the first time in several weeks. Five enemy Mig-15s, with swept back wings, attacked an American jet photo

Rent Control Extension Before Senate For Action

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—A two-month extension of federal rent controls in 1,700 communities goes before the senate today and its backers predict it will be passed by tomorrow.

Although Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., said he hoped to get the bill through today, a number of Republican opponents indicated he probably would not get his wish.

It was generally conceded, however, that debate would be limited, compared to the long, drawn-out battles that other rent bills have occasioned.

Missing Girl's Body Is Found

Michigan College Girl Found Murdered

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Police today are without a suspect and only one clue in the slaying of Carolyn Drown, 18-year-old Western Michigan college coed.

The ravished body of the pretty Stockbridge, Mich., girl was found yesterday by a farmer near a lonely road, eight miles southeast of the campus at Kalamazoo.

It was exactly a week since Carolyn disappeared following a snack in a campus drug store.

Tests have revealed that she was killed within an hour after walking out of the drug store into a blinding snowstorm.

Someone Known To Her

As a result, authorities reasoned that the popular freshman probably was with someone known to her. Many of Carolyn's friends

Flood Waters Close Highways

High Water May Close Harbor Road

As an aftermath of last week's heavy snow in the local district high water brought on by the melting snow, accompanied by rains, has closed some county highways and threatens to close others.

Alfred A. Martin, County Highway Superintendent, reported today that the Enon Valley-Mt. Jackson road at the junction of Routes 551 and 351 at the Y, north of Enon Valley, was closed as of 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon due to the Little Beaver overflowing its banks.

The Enon Valley-Petersburg road was also flooded at that time, requiring closing by highway forces. Traffic was detoured from both roads and will remain until the water recedes.

Threat At Harbor

At the Harbor, the Shenango River threatened to close traffic Route 37031. This morning the water wash lashing the berms on the road and before the day was over, was expected to cover the road, closing it to traffic.

Traffic Route 19 in Mercer County at Barkeyville was closed on Sunday due to the high water condition there, the highway head reported. A sharp look is being maintained on local roads where water may cover the highways so that traffic may be detoured around the danger spots if necessary, to prevent accidents or loss of life.

Both the Neshannock Creek and the Shenango River flowing through New Castle were at an extremely high stage this morning. If the cold weather continues, the high water should be checked to prevent further anxiety in the local district.

U.S. Will Ask Drastic Action To Halt Chinese

United Nations To Be Asked To Act On Korean Crisis

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The United States will shortly ask the United Nations to take drastic action to halt Red Chinese aggression in Korea threatening the lives of tens of thousands of American soldiers.

This became apparent today following a series of top level meetings in the White House and the State department participated in by President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Defense Secretary Marshall, and congressional leaders of both parties.

The top secret proposal is expected to be handed to the UN within 24 hours.

United Front Seen

It was evident as the extraordinary conferences continued far into the rainy night that the nation's leaders have cast aside party differences and are grimly determined to put up a united front.

The seriousness of the effort in Korea has placed the bipartisan foreign policy back onto what may prove to be the strongest basis in U.S. history.

Sen. Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., Senate Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., House Minority Leader Martin (R) Mass., and others sat silently side-by-side until almost midnight Sunday and were briefed on the Korean situation by Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, deputy chief of staff for planning.

The Congressional leaders later expressed the conviction that the U.S. situation in Korea is "serious" and that they "must stick together."

Snow Storms, Near Freezing Weather And Some Floods

(By International News Service)

A cold front apparently bypassed most of Western Pennsylvania today and whirled into the central and eastern areas of the state, halting a week end thaw and sending temperatures to near freezing.

The weather bureau in Pittsburgh, which had forecasted three to ten inches of snowfall for Western Pennsylvania, claimed the directional change of the front will result in only light snow flurries for the area.

Snow storms, near freezing temperatures and moderate floods made up the weather in Pennsylvania today.

Rising rivers threatened Pittsburgh and the steel city district with moderate floods. Precautionary flood warnings were issued in Central Pennsylvania which is in no immediate danger, according to the federal-state flood forecasting service in Harrisburg.

Eastern and central areas of the state reported rainfall and dropping temperatures after the mer-

Rain, Warmer Much Of Snow Is Taken Off

Much of last week's record snowfall is now just a memory. Warm temperatures, with rain rain which fell over the weekend, took away most of the white blanket which covered the district, and for a time threat of dangerously high water existed. However, the rain stopped Sunday evening, and was followed by a drop in the mercury, which averted this new threat.

Out in the rural sections, it was noted that the snow had entirely disappeared on a lot of fields, especially those which were exposed to the full rays of the sun.

Rescue Jobs Revealed

A number of instances of outstanding rescue jobs are coming to light, which occurred during the height of the storm.

Charles Robinson, Butler avenue garage man, battled nine hours to rescue a child who was ill and needed hospital attention near Stump's Corners, on Route 224. Mr. Robinson started out with a huge wrecker, dubbed "The Moose," to break a path to the stricken home. Unable to get through the snow, he returned, only to receive a more urgent request from State Police to get through if at all possible. He returned to the scene, and winched his way forward yard by yard, finally reaching the home. The child was placed in the family car,

Bill McConahy, age 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McConahy of R.D. 2, Volant, brought down one of the largest bucks to be bagged in the local district Saturday. His was a nine-point 200-pound deer which was shot near Volant.

Kenneth Stuart, age 17, of R.D. 4, reports to Pa Newc that he shot a 10-point buck weighing 145 pounds last week near the Game Farm. He had returned after spending the day in Ridgeway hunting unsuccessfully and shot the deer in his own backyard.

Included among the successful huntsmen from the local district were Don Morgan of R. D. 3 and Jack Murphy of R. D. 2. Don, who last year bagged a deer and a bear, brought down a five point buck, weighing about 150 pounds, while Jack's was an eight pointer, weighing 190 pounds. Both deer were shot in Cameron County. Herb Ward, R. D. 8, a third member of the party was unsuccessful.

Appropriations Bill Presented In City Council

When council met today in city hall, Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland introduced a proposed ordinance, providing for appropriations to operate the city next year.

The measure was seconded by Councilman Joe Medure, sent to committee, then reported out favorably. It will be printed, pending passage.

The budget ordinance next was introduced, and will lay 20 days in the office of the city clerk, for public inspection.

The estimated expenditures amount to $1,025,664.49, and the estimated receipts amount to $1,028,980.

The proposed tax levy ordinance which will call for 11 mills property tax was not presented today. It is being drafted by Solicitor Robert White.

The 11 mills will be divided as follows: for general revenue purposes, 9½ mills; for sinking fund purpose one mill, and for library purpose, one-half mill.

The library millage was not raised because council has provided an appropriation of $5,000, out of general revenue for the library.

Resume Collection Of Garbage Today

Councilman R. I. Davis announced today that collection of garbage has been resumed after a week's delay during which employes of the depatrment aided snow removal.

"Anyone who wants to haul their own garbage to the Incinerator in Sampson street may do so up to 10 p. m., at night, "Mr. Davis announced.

State Draft Quota For February 3361

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(INS)—A February induction quota of 3,361 in the 19-25 age bracket was announced today for Pennsylvania by State Selective Service Headquarters.

The national quota for the month is 50,000 men.

City Schools Resume Today

Pupils of the New Castle public schools returned to their classes today after more than a week's absence due to weather conditions and Thanksgiving vacation.

An entire week of school was lost due to the snowstorm that struck the district over a week ago. This is the longest period lost, due to weather conditions, within the memory of present school officials.

Whether or not these days lost will have to be made up later in the year will not be known for a while, Dr. Burton reports.

School conditions were practically normal today, except for the usual after-holiday period to get back into the swing of things. Attendance for both pupils and teachers was reported as normal, as traffic conditions cleared up to such an extent that even the pupils from the remotest areas were able to get to school with little trouble.

Two Are Charged With Attempt To Escape Rockview

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Two Rockview penitentiary inmates were arraigned today for attempting to escape after sawing the bars in their cell windows.

Robert Martin, 52, of Fayette County, and Wilbur McFarland, 29, of Beaver County, were caught hiding in the prison's dairy barn while trying their break, according to Deputy Warden H. R. Johnston.

Both pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace William H. Brown in Bellefonte. Martin is serving 17-34 years for burglary and larceny and McFarland 1½ to five years for larceny.

Melting Snow And Rain Fills Streams

Melting snow, plus the rain which fell over the week end, sent local streams to the highest level they have been in some time, and while they went over their banks in low spots, little danger of a flood is seen because of the drop in temperature.

The Shenango river stood at 13.1 feet this morning at 9 o'clock, and is expected to rise about another foot before subsiding. This will still be several feet below the flood level.

The Neshannock seemed to have crested during the night, and was down about a foot this morning. It still had several feet to go before there was danger of flood damage.

Seek To Speed Action On Huge Fund For Arms

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—House military and appropriations leaders tackled the defense crisis today in a "desperate effort" to get the 18 billion dollar arms bill up for a vote next week.

Top-ranking legislators in both house and senate were shaken by the smashing Chinese communist offensive in Korea, but felt that the next fortnight would tell whether an all-out war is to be avoided.

Primed with questions on every phase of American and global defense, the house armed services committee scheduled a closed session this morning with Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, and Gen. W. Bedell Smith, head of the central intelligence agency.

Call Gen. Omar Bradley

At the same time, the house military appropriations subcommittee called Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, to present the first "breakdown" of President Truman's emergency arms bill.

The armed services meeting under Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., held the spotlight. Questions withheld at last week's dramatic White House briefing by "Beetle" Smith were to be asked today.

A spokesman indicated that Smith, as top intelligence officer,

Marshal Tito Gives Views On Korean Crisis

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, I. N. S.)

PARIS, Dec. 4.—Marshal Tito declared today that the Korean conflict can be prevented from exploding into World War Three by stern sacrifices "for the preservation of peace".

He said use of the atom bomb would have "unfathonable consequences" in extending the present fighting into a global war "while America would lose a great deal both politically and morally".

The Yugoslav leader who split with the Kremlin nearly two and a half years ago said the UN should retain its composure and declared the situation no longer is one which involves "prestige".

He said the fate of the world now hinges on "who is prepared to sacrifice more . . ."

The Yugoslav premier disclosed his views on the threatening Asiatic situation in an exclusive statement to International News Service. He was asked for his views by this correspondent after Chinese Communist leaders sent their troops pouring across the Manchurian border into North Korea.

Questions Submitted

These are the questions submitted to Tito last Wednesday:

"1—What do you think should be done in view of the latest development in Korea?

"2—Do you think it would now be possible to avoid an extension of the Korean conflict?

"3—Do you believe that the dan-

RENT CONTROL BEFORE SENATE FOR ACTION

ducted a one-man filibuster against the last rent control bill, indicated he would not repeat that performance, although he planned to "make a statement" in favor of letting controls die Dec. 31.

The measure, which has administration backing, will carry rent ceilings in affected communities through Feb. 28. Close to 700 other communities have already acted to retain controls until next June 30.

President Truman had asked a 90-day extension, but senate banking chairman Maybank (D) S. C., sponsored the two-month version as a compromise calculated to win maximum support.

The banking committee reported it out ten to two on the two-fold argument that it will help curb inflation and also prevent chaotic conditions in areas where defense plants and military installations are aggravating an already serious housing shortage.

Surveying of storm and snow damage on local residences was being done over the week-end by a number of citizens. The loss caused by falling spouting and broken windows plus seepage into the residences will no doubt total into the thousands. Repairmen will be kept quite busy over the next few months remedying the damage.

Military sources have already have pointed out that MacArthur's knowledge of Red Chinease troop movements in Manchuria was hampered by his inability, under United Nations order, to send planes or patrols above the Yalu river.

Vinson's committee also wants to know what is happening on every potential war front, what the United States is doing about it, and whether that effort is great enough.

Thermostat On Water Tank Sticks

Firemen were called to the home of R. A. Alexander, of 207 W. There was no fire damage.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Nicholas Rainey, our husband and father, who passed away two years ago, December 4th.

It doesn't seem that he is gone,
Though two years has passed by,
For such a personality
We thought could never die.

But thought he's gone forever
His memory's with us yet,
And his care and loving kindness
We never shall forget.

Sadly missed by wife and children.

SNOW STORMS, NEAR FREEZING WEATHER

cury rose to 68 yesterday in Philadelphia to break a 79-year-old record Dec. 3 in that city.

Crest Of 30 Feet

The flood stage of 25 feet will be reached about 12 p .m. EST today at Pittsburgh's point where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers meet and form the Ohio. A crest of 30 feet will follow around 12:01 a. m. tomorrow.

It could be more serious in the Pittsburgh district if a weather bureau prediction of three to five inches of snow is rain instead. Five to ten inches of snow was forecasted for mountain areas east of Pittsburgh.

High temperatures in the low sixties yesterday thawed the residue of a 31.3-inch snow fall, which paralyzed the steel city district a week ago, and contributed to the flood danger.

But the weather bureau said near freezing temperatures today and low mercury readings near 15 tonight will eliminate that threat.

Although creeks and rivers in Central Pennsylvania were rising due to melted snow, the flood threat had been slight because only about 30 per cent of the 24,000 square mile Susquehanna river basin had been covered with snow. Heavy rainfalls today, however, increased the danger.

The high today will be 45 in central areas followed by a low tonight near 25. A low in the thirties is expected tonight in Philadelphia.

Three brothers and a sister preceded him in death. He is survived by four nieces and three nephews.

The body will lie in the Bigler Home on South Mill street until Wednesday afternoon, December 6, when it will be taken to the Trinity Episcopal church where funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Friends may call tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock and on Tuesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m., at the funeral home.

Flood Threats In Two Areas

(By International News Service)

Flood threats developed in California's rich San Joaquin valley and the Ohio river valley today while colder weather spread over the Great Lakes region and rolled on eastward.

The freakish weather followed a series of thunderstorms and a tornado in Illinois last Saturday night when three persons were killed and more than 20 injured at Greenville and Mount Olive. Tornado damage was estimated at more than a half million dollars.

Continued rains in the Sierra Nevada mountains of California brought floods to the central San Joaquin valley, still partly disrupted fro ma disastrous flood two weeks ago. Flood damage was estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

ST. JOSEPH CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

St. Joseph church was the scene of one of the loveliest weddings of the current season, Saturday morning, December 2. Miss Shirley Mae Sanfilippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanfilippo, 621 Spruce street, and Charles W. Scaglione, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Scaglione, of the New Castle-Ellwood road exchanged vows at 9 o'clock a.m., before an altar decorated with large vases of white mums. Fr. C. H. Becker officiated at the single ring ceremony before a large gathering of friends and relatives, among which were a number of out-of-town guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in white satin and net. Her redingote styled gown of white satin featured a mandarin neckline, long fitted sleeves which pointed over the wrists, and a court train. The fitted bodice was fastened by a row of tiny satin covered buttons. At the waist line the gown fell open over a full skirt of net which was worn with a hoop. Her fingertip veil of net fell from a skull cap of white satin, trimmed with tiny seed pearls. She wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed, blue, and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and baby mums, centered with a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Ruth Capitola, as maid of honor, was attractively attired in a bengaline gown of sunrise coral. Her gown was styled with a boat neckline, short sleeves and fitted bodice. The full skirt was worn over a hoop and featured a pleated sash of satin accented with a large bow and long streamers. She wore short nylon gloves and a circlet of talisman roses and baby mums in her hair. Her cascade bouquet of talisman roses and baby mums was tied with a wide ribbon matching her gown.

The Misses Margreta Bergman and Dolores DiLorenzo, the latter a cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaids. They were attired identically to the maid of honor in gowns of turquoise bengaline. They also wore circlets of flowers in their hair and carried cascade bouquets of talisman roses and baby mums tied with wide turquoise ribbons.

William Mariacher served the groom as best man and the ushers were Alex and Thomas Sansone.

At noon a dinner was served to 110 guests at a local dining room and in the afternoon a reception was held at Cozy Inn for 300 guests. The bride's table, beautifully apopinted, was centered with a four-tier wedding cake, flanked by tall lighted tapers and floral arrangements of white mums and ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Scaglione have departed on a wedding trip by car to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside in their newly-furnished apartment on Pearson street.

Mrs. Scaglione is a graduate of New Castle senior high school and is employed by the Credit Union at the Shenango Pottery.

FEE-SNYDER VOWS BEAUTIFUL EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. William Anthony Snyder are motoring to Florida following their marriage on Saturday, Dec. 2, in St. Mary's church.

The young couple exchanged their solemn wedding vows at an impressive double ring ceremony at 11 o'clock with open church being observed. Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter officiated at the lovely rite with a large crowd of friends and relatives in attendance. Yellow and white pompons, baby mums, ferns, palms and lighted candelabra decorated the church altar for the ceremony.

The bride is the former Geraldine Mirian Fee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Fee, 401 West Washington street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony L. Snyder, 618 Sumner avenue.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the youthful bride was charming in a redingote style gown. The redingote, of a Princess design, was fashioned of Chantilly lace and featured a tiny collar trimmed with a nylon tulle ruffle. Dainty buttons extended from the neck to the waistline, and long sleeves, with ruffle trim, tapered to points at the wrists. The full back of the redingote extended into a cathedral train. The underdress was strapless in blush pink nylon tulle over pink satin, with basque waist and bouffant skirt. Her circular fingertip veil of silk tulle was attached to a dutch cap of Chantilly lace with nylon tulle trimming. She wore her mother's lavalier and observed the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue. A bouquet of roses and white baby mums, centered with an orchid, completed the ensemble.

Miss Mary Louise Fee attended her sister as maid of honor wearing an autumn green satin gown. The strapless bodice was enhanced by a satin shoulder cape, with satin appliqued flowers accenting the overskirt of marquisette. She carried a colonial bouquet of fall flowers with a matching headdress.

Bridesmaids included Miss Charlotte Schooley, cousin of the bride, Miss Edna Buckley, Miss Rosalie Gallagher, and Miss Mary Salamon. Each was attired in a shrimp colored satin gown styled like that of the maid of honor, with fall flowers in their colonial bouquets.

Sgt. Thomas Snyder of Wichita Falls, Texas, served his brother as best man. Nick Squeglia of Hillsville; Donald Fee, brother of the bride; Bob Shane; and Jim Quinn of Pittsburgh, were ushers.

Appropriate nuptial selections were offered by the men's choir of St. Mary's church.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party enjoyed a dinner at a local tearoom. The evening reception was held at the bride's home from 6 to 9 o'clock for 300 guests. A tiered wedding cake graced the bride's table, with aides being Miss Patricia Rooney, Miss Lorena Lehman, Mrs. Gertrude Gilboy, Mrs. Helen Krueger, Mrs. Florence Johnson, nad Mrs. Marjorie Jones, the latter two women being sisters of the bride.

Upon returning from their honeymoon, the young couple will reside at 319 West Meyer avenue.

The bride, who attended Mt. Galletzin academy and is a graduate of the New Castle senior high school, is a secretary at the Bossert ocmpany. The groom, a graduate of St. Francis high school of McKees Rocks, Pa., is a salesman for the Manufactures Light and Heat company.

A delicious lunch was later served by the hostess, with a large decorated birthday cake centering the prettily arranged table.

ANNE GLENN WEDS DAVID C. AXE

Miss Marjorie Anne Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Atkinson Glenn, 1209 Highland avenue, became the bride of David Claire Axe, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Axe, 920 Morton street, at an impressive ceremony, Saturday afternoon, December 2. The "open church" wedding was held at the Trinity Episcopal church, with Rev. Fr. Ralph E. Hovencamp officiating at the single ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of guests.

At 4 o'clock p.m., the young couple exchanged vows before an altar embanked with fern and graced with two large vases of white mums flanked by lighted candelabras.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautifully attired in a gown of white lace and satin. The fitted bodice and sleeves were fashioned of nylon with appliques of chantilly lace. The gown was styled with a high round neckline and long sleeves which pointed over the wrists. Lovely slipper satin formed the full skirt worn over a hoop and graceful court train. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle fell from a halo of net trimmed with tiny seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white rose buds and gardenias.

Miss Alice Glenn served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown of wine velvet, styled with a boat neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a small cap of silver mesh and carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses and snapdragons.

Ivor Davis, Jr., acted as best man and the ushers were William Eroe, III, Joseph Jordan, Piper Preston, and Edward Beckman, the latter a brother-in-law of the groom.

Miss Isabel Johnson presented a half hour recital of appropriate organ music preceding the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony a congratulatory period was held in the church vestibule. A reception for approximately 50 guests was then held at the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated in a festive manner, with floral arrangements of white flowers and pine and lighted tapers in evidence throughout. A lovely four-tiered wedding cake held the place of honor in the dining room where the table was appointed in the bridal motif.

Aides were Mrs. Leyshon Richards, Mrs. Gordon Kline, Mrs. Thomas Kelley, and Mrs. Norman Lockhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Axe departed for a wedding trip by car to Florida and upon their return will reside in their newly-furnished apartment on Highland avenue.

Mrs. Axe is a graduate of New Castle senior high school and Westminster College. She is a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority. She is now employed by the Pennsylvania Power Co.

COMMON COLD NOT HARMLESS

The common cold is not as harmless as either its name or its wide prevalence indicates. To the oft-repeated statement that it causes an annual loss of a billion dollars or more due to absences in industry, the harm to the sufferer is becoming more seriously impressed. Research reveals at least the possibility that the cold may be responsible indirectly for numerous other serious ailments.

These new indictments of the common cold, the result of evidence just presented at international health conferences of greatest authority, are hastening efforts to fight it. Fortunately, the virus of the common cold can now be grown, the electron microscope has made intensive research possible, and an attack in force may be undertaken with a good chance of success.

Under these conditions, it is encouraging to note that the branches of medicine especialy concerned with the detection and treatment of the common cold—the American College of Chest Physicians, the American Research and Education Foundation for Chest Disease, and the American Association of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons—are combining in a well planned and concerted drive on the disease. A mass coordinated research such as that being directed at cancer, will be launched. Teams of physicians and researchers will concentrate on study of the malady, its cause and possible cure. Their findings will be coordinated and made available to a wider field until this very annoying and now highly suspected plague is licked.

TELEVISION EFFECT ON FOOTBALL

The television peril is said to be endangering the financial standing of big-time college football. Fordham university, with over 9,000 students, has an excellent team; yet the game does not pay. The contest with the University of San Francisco drew fewer than 10,000 spectators. Now Graduate Manager Jack Coffey warns the alumni that unless the attendance picks up the university must give up the game.

That is calculated, if anything can, to shock the fans into going to games. They will note that some lesser schools have abandoned football because of the expense of coaches, equipment and transportation. They did so regretfully, because with the departure of football went a traditional method of financing other sports. Without football gate receipts many a college would have to curtail other athletic activities for its students, or dip into the already depleted general funds.

One weakness of football is that the weather in which it is played is too often rainy or bitterly cold. The players have to stand it, but the spectators do not. Moreover, many of them will not if they can stay at home and see the game better and more comfortably.

The Fordham dilemma may soon be faced by many other colleges.

PRICE CONTROLS

Members of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers insist that taxes and other indirect methods of curbing inflation will be used to the fullest but there are many indications that price controls are on the way.

Economic Stabilization Chief Alan Valentine feels that the battle against inflation is being lost at the present time and currently is appealing to all Americans voluntarily to restrain prices, wages and spending.

John R. Steelman, often called "assistant president," has dropped several hints that the government may have to switch to compulsory controls.

The National Production Authority is drawing up a voluntary civilian conservation program and officials privately say that if it fails, there will be compulsory controls.

Officials now are talking about food rationing, and one NPA expert says this is "likely."

NOT THEIR WAY

Soviet officials, who are familiar only with Communism's one-ticket "vote-or-else" elections, are telling the Russian people that the fact that only 40 million of the 98 million eligible Americans voted in the November 7 election shows a general "indifference" in the United States.

In a broadcast to Russian radio listeners shortly after the returns were announced, the Moscow radio first reported without comment the Republican gains, then listed the defeat of left-wing Rep. Vito Marcantonio of New York. It called Marcantonio "the only progressive congressman."

The broadcast went on to say that "the elections were marked by extreme passiveness of the electors." The voting figures, it added, demonstrated the "indifferent attitude of the American nation" and represented a competition between two "bourgeois" parties which are "reactionary to the same extent."

A ray of hope is that Henry Wallace is now convinced Russia wants a "shooting war." Perhaps Hank is wrong again as usual.

After much obligation, no doubt—Junior has come up with the unanswerable question. At breakfast today he wanted to know how Santa Claus looks without that beard.

Paavo Nurmi and Glenn Cunningham, two famous runners, says an Illinois chiropodist, had flat feet. And all this time we thought it was their rivals who were left flat-foooted!

Prime Minister Attlee's Visit

One of the most complicated, controversial and in his quiet way among the most colorful personalities in modern British life will hold the focus of all attention in Washington this week.

He is Rt. Hon. Richard Clement Attlee, Prime Minister of Great Britain and his majesty's first lord of the treasury, who has requested and obtained a meeting with President Truman on the manifold problems that beset the world.

Attlee made known his desire for a personal meeting with the American Chief Executive after Mr. Truman startled the world with the announcement that the United States stands ready — if need be—to employ use of the atomic bomb to bring an end to the gruelling war in Korea.

The Laborite Chief of Britain's government, in spite of his sombre mission, is certain to be a highly-publicized personality during his visit.

He has been called lacking in color, with little of the brilliant radiance and personality of predecessors such as Winston Churchill.

Compels Attention

But it is none the less a fact that this slight, somewhat stoop-shouldered man who was brought up in comparative wealth, educated at Oxford and devoted his pre-government years to improvement of the slums of London, is one to compel attention.

Attlee was born in January in 1883, the fourth son of a successful London Lawyer, and took a law degree from Oxford in 1905.

He was an early member of the Fabian Society led by the late George Bernard Shaw and H. G. Wells and began his socialistic life at the age of 27 when appointed secretary to Boynbee Hall, perhaps the first and certainly the most vigorous organization to take action for improvement of London's East End.

When the first world war broke out, Attlee was an announced conscientious objector. But he changed his views, enlisted in the Officers' Training Corps of the London Law Courts and was dispatched to service with a tank unit at Gallipoli. He commanded a landing party, was wounded, and on recovery was dispatched to France, where he attained the rank of Major.

Attlee does not have the radiance of Churchill, but he has proved an exceptionally popular man among the British people, both high and low.

Takes Heavy Criticism

He naturally has taken all the heavy criticism attendant upon socialization of his country and has answered in a manner effective enough at least to have kept his government in office. He has survived many close calls in Parliamentary tests and at the moment is believed to have closed up even serious cleavages within is own party.

Few men in British political history have inherited a more difficult task than that of Attlee when he succeeded Churchill after the Laborite election victory of 1945.

He had to step into the shoes of a national hero.

It was his job to command a group of cabinet executives almost untried except in the close wartime companionship.

Whatever the criticisms leveled against him as a national leader and the chief minister of the British government, Attlee has succeeded in maintaining a great measure of respect among the British people.

He is at home in the slums, with well-worn black jacket and modest striped trousers, and equally so in Buckingham Palace in tail coat and medals of service to the Army and Empire.

Attlee's mission to Washington is one of gravest moment and of enormous importanc to the future of the world.

But it is more than probable that the personal factors of the man's character will make news over and above the internationally important diplomatic aspects of his conference with President Truman.

Folks Of Fame

Charles Wakefield Cadman, American composer, was at Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 24, 1881. He was a newspaper music critic, organist of Pittsburgh churches and the Pittsburgh Male chorus He became deeply interested in Indian music, and his song, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water", has become a classic among American song literature in many countries. Among his operas are "Shanewis" ("The Robin Woman") which was produced at the Metropolitan Opera house March 23, 1918, and repeated in 1919, the first American opera to live beyond one season. "The Garden of Mystery" was produced in New York, and "A Witch of Salem" in Chicago in 1926. Other compositions of his are a cantata, "The Vision of St. Launfal"; a piano sonata, a trio and many songs. He died Dec. 30, 1946.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was born in Manchester, England, July 14, 1858. With her husband she promoted a married women's property act. She also helped to found the Women's Franchise league. Because of her suffrage activities she was forced to resign two civil service posts. Resorting to violence in her efforts to dramatize the votes for women movement, she was jailed agian and again for disturbances of the peace, technical assault, window-breaking, etc. In prison she went on hunger strikes. However, when World War I broke out, she and her organization devoted themselves to national service. At the time of her death, June 14, 1928, she was a candidate for parliament. She wrote one book, "My Own Story".

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOTHER THINKS CHILD TOO INDEPENDENT

A mother writes to know if her child, four, can be too independent. "Our Nancy is almost four. For almost a year she has dressed herself and also managed her snow suit and galoshes alone. We have gotten her shoes with buckles instead of ties, buying her dresses which button down the front, closing our eyes if she appears in a pink dress and red socks.

"The only time Nancy exhibits temper is when I insist on helping her comb her hair or something that a there-year-old can't do for herself. She has stated several times that she wants to do everything for herself.

"It isn't that I want her 'to be tied to my apron strings'. However, it seems to me that it is important in life to know how to accept help as well as to do things for onself. I have visions of Nancy in about 20 years hen-pecking some poor male. So far she gets along with other children and doesn't seem to be domineering."

Wise Ways

In answering this mother, I complimented her on her wise ways of letting her little girl enjoy so much independence and self-reliance but stated that I believed she had too much concern about the future of this child. In substance I told this mother that it may be we men don't want a wife who is too independent. Some women won't even let us be chivalrous enough to open a gate or door for them. All of us, too, like to be needed some for help. Yet it probably is a safe bet that Nancy's husband by and by will find her easier and more enjoyable to live with than if she were more dependent on you now. Anyway, she will grow more resistant to your help if you force it on her. You might, however, win her cooperation gradually.

So long as a child is safe physically and morally, reasonably careful of property and does not infringe on the rights of others, this child hardly can be too independent. There may be times when, for the protection of your good name and that of the family, you will need to require that her hair be combed neatly, even if you must do it yourself, especially if company is expected or you are about to take her with you away from home, and the time for preparation is limited. But if you can induce her to make such preparation early enough she might prepare herself pretty well or so well that a few added gentle touches from your hand might suffice.

There may be times, too, when she is making something out of paper, cardboard, cloth or wood, that you should for reasonable economy step in regarding her choice of materials. She might, for example, insist on using very expensive materials, even materials you need for other use or consider very valuable. Or she might attempt to use scissors or other cutting tools in a way that might be very extravagant or dangerous. In all such cases you might wisely step in.

One might infer from your letter that you are often vexed when Nancy resists your help at times when she is sure she does not need help, even when you yourself know she doesn't. Think of the times when a father or mother will grow very angry at a child five, 12 or 15. When this child insists on doing something his or her own way that could bring the same results without harm to any person or property. Even in such matters as homework, some parents will get into quarrels with a child who wants to do say or write something in his own way—usually the way followed at school. How vain and silly we parents can be!

Tragic Aspects Of Policy Crisis

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Beneath the outward calm of his manner President Truman at his press conference showed the pressure of the crisis that has the whole world in its grip. It came out especially in flashes of resentment at the continuing attacks on the integrity of the administration.

In one of these flare-ups the president entered another defense of his secretary of state, Dean Acheson. One of the most tragic aspects of the crisis is the deep division that exists in the government between the Congress and the executive. This is reflected in doubt and suspicion in the country in large part fomented for political purposes with Acheson and the state department as the primary target.

Chorus Is Swollen

The "Acheson must go" chorus has now been swollen to large proportions. It has been augumented lately by those who profess to speak more in sorrow than in anger. They say, with a great deal of logic, that if it is true that the secretary no longer has the confidence of Congress and the country, then he should be replaced. This is true, they added, even though he has been a good secretary of state and it is highly doubtful whether a more able substitute could be found.

What this overlooks, in my opinion, is that the mere removal of Acheson will not satisfy those chiefly responsible for raising the cry against him. They will not be satisfied with less than a reversal of the Truman-Acheson policy in Asia. Their attack on the individual has in fact been aimed at the policy.

Heart Of Present Tragedy

This gets at the heart of the present tragedy. There have been two Asian policies in this country. Neither one has been followed consistently. Under varying political pressures from at home and abroad the Truman administration vacillated between the two.

The outlines of the Truman-Acheson policy are fairly clear. The objective has been to try to build a cooperative relationship with Asian peoples seeking to establish independent governments. The goal was to win them to the side of the west by persuasion, assistance, support and the propaganda of free association as opposed to the threats, intimidation and ruthless new colonialism of Russian communism.

The opposing policy might, for lack of a better designation, be called the MacArthur policy. While General MacArthur himself has not always articulated it, his friends and admirers have done this for him. The most persistent advocate of the MacArthur policy to Senator William F. Knowland of California.

MacArthur Policy

At the base of the MacArthur policy is the belief that power and prestige are of the first importance in the Orient. The Oriental will follow the symbols of power and it has been for lack of power and its controlled application that the United States has failed in Asia since 1945.

In this light the failure to give full military assistance to Chiang Kai-shek brought the loss of China. Although whether the advocates of this policy would nave gone so far as to recommend the use of American troops of the Chinese mainland alongside Chiang's forces is doubtful. In the last year or year and a half of the Chinese civil war American military advisers in China reported that only American intervention on a large scale and the creation and maintenance of a supply line at least equal to that maintained during and after the D-day invasion of Normandy would have sufficed.

All the pressures from America's allies in western Europe were behind the Truman-Acheson policy. In this country the most violent political pressures were behind the MacArthur policy.

Reconciliation Attempt

President Truman has attempted from time to time to reconcile these pressures, to try to strike some kind of compromise. This appears to have been the meaning of his action in sending W. Averell Harriman to Tokyo to talk to MacArthur about Formosa and then in October flying halfway around the world to talk with the general himself for three hours.

Such a reconciliation may have been impossible from the beginning. In recent weeks Great Britain, France and the other western allies have been urging caution in Korea and the holding of a United Nations line short of the actual border of Manchuria. MacArthur, the commander in the field, has insisted that he could not stop at such a line. The president sided with MacArthur on all but the ultimate point of attacking Chinese Communist concentrations inside Communist China.

The result of veering between one course and another course has been maximum confusion and uncertainty. Whether the present disaster might have been axerted by caution we shall never know.

The removal of Acheson would perhaps temporarily and the clamor. But anyone else who tried to carry out the Truman-Acheson foreign policy would almost certainly be faced with the same attack. To switch the policy would be something else again. At the present moment it looks as though a switch could only be to all-out war against communism everywhere.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Mr. Truman will get faster delivery on national unity than anything he has shopped for recently.

The fellow who said "politics stops at the water's edge" gave us a dry-toed slogan that's never failed.

When we're in trouble we're closer and harder than brass grapes on an iron stem.

As diplomats we hold the world's free style blunder record and we have won five legs on the cup but even if we had permanent possession we would still forgive our champions when the chips are down.

One thing ran always be said for the American people . . . No matter whom they blame for spilling the milk, every man comes forward with a mop when called on.

This is not native politeness so much as native passion for preservation . . . When there's shooting there are no special chest protectors for those who disagree with the policies leading up to it.

There's always time after the final curtain comes down to check the program notes for possible eliminations in the cast.

State Police Say:

Looking through a mud-splattered windshield a driver gets a distorted view of the road ahead. An approaching car with bright lights, or only one light, adds to the hazard and confusion, and the driver is hard put to accurately judge whether he is on his own side of the road. This hazard can be eliminated by keeping your windshield wipers in good working order and if the wiping edge of the blade has deteriorated, replace it.

THE AQUARIAN AGE

Though the earth now groans in travail, and war and greed are rife,
A bright New Day is dawning, when there'll be an end to strife.
Neptune's Veil of Illusion shall be forever swept away.
As God's bright sun comes shining through to greet that Wondrous Day.

Aquarius shall teach the law of Love and Brotherhood;
As the water from his urn pours forth, in endless, healing flood,
It washes clean the hearts of men now swayed by hate and greed,
And makes them see with clearer sight—to know their brother's need.

Hate shall be replaced by Love; war shall vanish from the earth,
As Radiance Celestial brings forth the glad new birth!
Satan and his evil host shall shrivel as they flee,
When Christ comes in His Glory, for every eye to see!

Oh, haste that glorious dawning when evil days shall cease,
For Satan knows his time is short, and his fury doth increase!
Strengthen us in faith, dear Lord, let us not lose the way;
We wait for Thee in love and hope, as we kneel each day to pray.

Acheson Developments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

The furious controversy that for weeks has raged around the stately form of the Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, has developed some new phases since Congress met last Monday. Some of these are puzzling and contradictory. For one thing, the really appalling news from Korea (so bad as to make almost everything else seem insignificant) has modified the intense personal hostility of some of his most savage Republican enemies. When Senator Wherry, of Nebraska, urges unity and a cessation of partisan attack, even though he cannot altogether control his bad temper and congenital truculence, it will be agreed the situation is critical indeed.

—o—

The demand for Mr. Acheson's resignation is no longer as insistently made by the Republicans. Partly this is due to the patriotic impulse to present an united front on foreign affairs in a time of acute national danger. But, partly, too, it is due to political considerations. For example, there are those who contend the Republicans will be better off in 1952 with Mr. Acheson in than with Mr. Acheson out. The argument is that Mr. Acheson is a distinctly unpopular figure, as evidenced in the recent campaign. So long as he remains Secretary of State he will be a Republican asset and a Democratic liability.

—o—

Firmly believing this, an effort is now reported to change the Republican strategy. Instead of centering solely on Mr. Acheson as the target and howling only for his blood, the suggestion is that they concentrate more on Mr. Truman as the man really responsible for foreign policy. In brief, without abandoning Mr. Acheson as the whipping boy, they want to link him more closely with Mr. Truman, thus holding their position of opposition and at the same time retaining Mr. Acheson as an issue. This, of course, is so subtle and unworthy that it easily may prove politically impossible. Certainly, it will be difficult to reconcile with the Wherry urge for unity. However, there is no doubt that it is considered and discussed. At any rate, though perhaps there are one or two senatorial Republicans who will not be restrained either by patriotism or politics, for one reason or another the violence of the Republican demand for Mr. Acheson's head has diminished.

—o—

It is interesting that this Republican change of pace toward Mr. Acheson is strangely coincident with what almost amounts to a demand for his resignation from his friends. These give two reasons. One is that Mr. Acheson's inability to get along with Congress is so complete that so long as he remains in office Congress will not grant the extremely vital requests which, because of the war, the President now must make. Failure to support him in this respect will imperil the "survival of the nation." Hence, Mr. Acheson must give way to some man like Mr. John McCloy or Mr. Paul Hoffman or Mr. Averill Harriman. The other is that Democrats in the White House inner circle, supposedly friendly to Mr. Acheson, are now telling Mr. Truman that not only can he get no cooperation from Congress so long as Mr. Acheson is in his Cabinet but the Democratic party cannot possibly win if he stays. Hence, some of his strongest journalistic supporters who still maintain their Acheson friendship declare his resignation is "inevitable" and "must come soon."

—o—

Privately, these friends deny they have "thrown up the sponge" or weakened in their belief in his high character and great ability. They insist they are simply facing the practical realities and that "in the national interest" Mr. Acheson "must go." The question now is how much this movement toward the announced goal of the Acheson enemies by his avowed friend will affect the President and his greatly harried Secretary of State. Mr. Acheson has emphatically asserted he will not quit and Mr. Truman has as emphatically denied that he will ask him to do so. He went farther last week in reply to a press conference question when he ringingly declared, "Mr. Acheson will stay, period!!"

—o—

That would appear pretty decisive except for the fact that Mr. Truman has talked that way before and then, under pressure and for expediency's sake, reversed his position. There is, for example, the case of Mr. Louis Johnson. And there have been others. There is no doubt pressure is being put on him by some of his "advisers" in Congress as well as around the White House. He may or he may not yield to this. If Mr. Acheson feels any lowering in the quality of presidential support, undoubtedly he will resign. Or, under existing conditions it may be that, despite his lack of tact and unfortunate utterances in the past, the idea that Mr. Acheson cannot get co-operation from Congress in matters which affect the "survival of the nation" will turn out entirely unfounded. There are far too many unfounded. There are far too many uncertain elements to make possible a prediction.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Several times recently I have been thinking of going into business.

There is a business in which I would have very little competition, and there should be good money in it.

You all know about custom tailors, custom shoe makers, custom milliners.

What I am thinking of doing is to hang out my shingle as "custom columnist".

The idea would be to write columns to fit personal problems, and collect either an outright fee or commissions on what these columns may accomplish.

Here is how the idea came to me:

Hardly a day passes without someone asking me to write a special column just for her or him (mostly her).

For instance, I am supposed to condemn drinking.

Here is a woman who writes that her husband is a very heavy drinker. He also reads my column every day (I don't know which in this case came first, the drinking or the reading of the column).

Will I please write about the evils of drinking? He will then read my tirade against drink and stop being a sot—she thinks.

She will do anything in the world for me—pray for me, send me a check (because when he is sober he is very generous with her)—or anything my heart desires.

Another letter comes from a clergyman.

He likes what I write about religion. Will I please write some more and arrange to have it run on a Saturday so that more people will come to his church the next day.

His church funds are sadly depleted, he complains, and with half-empty pews he doesn't know what is going to happen.

Now there, you see, I could probably get a nice percentage on the increased collections.

A young lady of 18 thanks me from the bottom of her heart..

A recent column of mine advocated more freedom for youngsters, and exhorted parents not to fence their kids in too much.

This young lady cut out the column and whenever her parents say NO she holds it under their noses.

The clipping is all tattered now and would I send her a fresh one?

Democrats To Draft Program

Legislative Program To Be Prepared For State Legislature

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(INS)—A special committee was set up by the Democratic high command to draft the party's legislative program for 1951.

State chairman Maurice D. Splain, Jr., appointed former state Sen. Harry Shapiro of Philadelphai to head the drafting committee which will organize December 6 at Philadelphia.

The membership, to be announced by Shapiro, will blueprint a program covering all points in the 1950 party platform. The committee will meet at Philadelphia.

Following the meeting of the policy committee, Splain announced that legislative candidates will caucus at the state capitol December 14 to elect floor leaders in the house and senate for the 139th session of the General Assembly opening January 2.

To Choose Leaders

A caucus chairman and party whip also will be chosen in each house.

Republicans will meet at Harrisburg next Wednesday for a similar chore.

The policy committee meeting was the first since the Democratic statewide ticket went down to defeat in the general election November 7.

Defeated candidates attending the meeting were gubernatorial aspirant Richardson Dilworth, lame duck U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers, Sen. Frank W. Ruth, who sought the post of internal affairs secretary and Allegheny county Judge Michael A. Musmanno, who campaigned for lieutenant governor.

After the meeting, Dilworth said the legislative platform will embrace a "Philadelphia package" covering a port authority with the right of eminent domain, clarification of the 1949 home rule act for the city, a free city college and city-county consolidation.

The policy committee sidestepped endorsement of a legislative program pending recommendations by Shapiro's committee.

Four Convicts In Jail Break Are Still At Large

MEDIA, Pa., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Four convicts are still at large today following the recapture of a fifth escapee from the Broadmeadows "model" prison farm at nearby Thorton, Pa.

Returned to custody after his apprehension Sunday night by Maryland state police was Gene Rigler, 21.

Accompanied by his wife, Anna Mae, Rigler was seized at Conowingo, Md., after having successfully eluded a series of police road-blocks enroute from Media.

Police said they have no leads to the whereabouts of the four convicts still at large.

The prisoners still free are: Robert Dorsey, 21, of Chester, convicted of a holdup attempt; James London, 34, and Corbett cooper, 44, of Philadelphia, imprisoned for main line robberies, and William Cooper, 20, Chester, serving time for burglary.

Dorsey, London and Corbett Cooper were trusties at Broadmeadows. They drove off in a prison truck Saturday night while working on a farm outside the institution's walls.

Rigler nad William Cooper sawed their way through bars on their cell windows and fled while guards were searching for the other three convicts.

Soviet-Type Jet Planes Appear Over North Korea

SEOUL, Dec. 4—(INS)—For the first time in several weeks, Soviet-type jet planes appeared over North Korea today and with a new boldness pursued an American jet fighter 100 miles from the Manchurian border all the way to Pyongyang.

The American jet pilot, Lt. James Markette of Brookhaven, Miss., was flying cover for U.N. unarmed jet photo plane, flown by Lt. Roy Hudspeth of Decatur, Ill., when five enemy MIG-15 jets attacked.

The attack occurred over the North Korean Yalu River border city of Siniju, 100 air miles northwest of enemy-threatened Pyongyang.

Markette lured the five Russian-type jets away from the defenseless American camera plane which was able to escape. Markette fired two bursts into one of the enemy jets, then headed for his fighter base to the southeast.

One of the MIG-15's pursued him until Markette, using a mountain in the Pyongyang area as a Pylon, managed to shake off the enemy fighter.

Find Many Slugs In Parking Meters

Many slugs of various kind have been taken from parking meters which are being cleaned by Arthur Harris, parking meter service operator, at the city building.

Some of them are round pieces of plastic material used in bingo. Others are washers of varous size. Several foreign coins were also found. A Pittsburgh car check was also found in a meter clock.

WOMAN GOES ON TRIAL

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 4—(INS)—The trial of Helen L. Knable, a 20-year-old housekeeper charged with voluntary manslaughter in the shooting of her employer, is scheduled to get under way at Carlisle today in Cumberland County Court.

The defendant claims the victim, Herbert Lemin, 30, of Cleversburg, was the father of her unborn child.

A grand jury ignored a murder charge lodged against her by the commonwealth.

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT ON 30-DAY TEST OF CAMEL SMOKERS...

Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

"TOUCHDOWN TOM" HARMON—one of football's all-time greats . . . unanimous All-American Half-back in 1939 and '40 . . . outstanding player of 1940. Today, Tom carries on in the sports world as one of radio's top announcers on the west coast.

"Now that I broadcast games instead of playing them, my first thought is my voice. That's why I chose my cigarette for mildness. And before I did so, I made a sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test. It was fun—and convincing. I took my time—smoked Camels for 30 days. Not just one puff or one whiff . . . no quick tricks. My test left no doubt. Cool, mild Camels for me!"

Some Changes In Draft Plan Are Forecast

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(INS)—The danger of world conflict threatens today to keep draftees in service indefinitely and to end the automatic deferment of many men of draft age.

Sentiment for the drafting of men "for the duration" and an end to deferment of college and high school students was expressed by Sen. Hunt (D) Wyo., a member of the armed srevices committee.

Hunt declared that events of the last few days show "we have to go into full mobilization and pronto."

The senator told a reporter:

"The limits on the time a draftee or an enlistee serve must be discarded. It is going to have to be for the duration.

"As it is now under the 21-month period of service, men meet themselves coming out. By the time a man is trained, classified and moved to an area of need, it practically is time for him to be demobilized.

"We are going to have to forget about enlistment periods, about business as usual."

All-Out Mobilization

Sen. Morse (R) Ore., also a senate armed services committeeman, joined in the demand for all-out mobilization, which he said should have been ordered in August.

Sen. Russell (D) Ga., who is to head the armed services committee after Jan. 1, said all-out mobilization will require changes in the draft act to bring in more men.

Hunt called for "doing aawy with the rule against taking boys in school". He said selective service would pick up a "tremendous amount of manpower" if it taps the 19 through 25-year men who are now in college.

The Wyoming Democrat also proposed that reservists be screened by local draft boards.

Russell, in discussing the military manpower issue, said:

"The draft act is sufficient to take care of needs under the present rate of mobilization.

"If we go on an all-out mobilization basis, then of course changes in the law will be necessary.

"Congress will need to revise the draft act at the next session but if the rate of mobilization should be stepped up now, the changes must be made at once and we would stay here through Christmas to do it."

Flood Warnings Are Issued In Central Regions Of State

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Precautionary flood warnings were issued today in the 24,000-square mile Susquehanna river basin as creeks and rivers were choked by heavy rain and melted snow.

The federal-state flood forecasting service at Harrisburg said rapid rises were indicated on all streams in the basin except possibly the extreme western headwaters.

The service said "heavy rain beginning about 3 a. m. augmenting the complete snow melt of Sunday afternoon" was swelling the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers in central Pennsylvania.

Snow covered only about 30 per cent of the basin when warm weather swept across the state, the service said, so floods were not indicated until the early-morning downpour began.

BULISCO-EDMISTON WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edmiston, nee Josephine Bulisco, newlyweds of November 23, have returned home from their wedding trip and are "at home" in their newly furnished apartment in West Pittsburg.

Mrs. Edmiston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cosimo Bulisco of R. D. 9 and Mr. Edmiston is the son of Maurice Edmiston of West Pittsburg. The vows were exchanged in St. Vitus rectory at 10:30 a. m., Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a white slipper satin gown with nylon yoke with long tapering sleeves. The bodice was daintily embroidered with a panel of heather lace with small satin buttons down to the waistline in back. The full hoop skirt ended in a cathedral train with lace trimming the length of the skirt and train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a mother of pearl prayer book, with an orchid and streamer and crystal rosary, a gift from her mother. Her only jewelry was a gold cross which was worn by her grandmother.

Miss Jeannette Galmarino as maid of honor wore a shrimp-colored gown patterned similar to the bride's. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rose buds. Bridesmaids, Misses Deloris Bulisco, sister of the bride, and Ruth Adams, niece of the bridegroom, wore candy-green gowns with mitts and hats to match. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow rose buds. Little Carol Hardesky, cousin of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, wore a shrimp-colored gown, matching accessories and carried pink roses.

Robert McClavon of Pittsburgh served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Andy Mangino, Joseph Bulisco, Jr., and little Cosimo Bulisco, Jr.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony in the Slovak hall. A wedding dinner was served to guests numbering 125. A reception at 7:30 p. m. was held for 400 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston are employed at the luggage plant in West Pittsburg.

LITRENTA-DeSIMONE IMPRESSIVE RITE

St. Vitus church was the scene of the wedding which united in marriage Miss Mary Jane Litrenta and Anthony L. DeSimone on Saturday, November 25.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Litrenta of 702 Neal street, and Mr. DeSimone is the son of Mrs. Catherine DeSimone, 304 East Lutton street.

The impressive double ring service was read at 8 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Raymond H. Heintz, with palms, ferns and lighted candelabra decorating the altar for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of skinner satin, with the fitted bodice enhanced by a lace yoke and bertha collar caught at the side with orange blossoms. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. The full, gored skirt terminated in a graceful cathedral train, and a band of orange blossoms caught up her fingertip veil of illusion. A cascade bouquet of roses, centered with two orchids, completed the costume.

Miss Catherine DeSimone, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in a green brocade satin gown, with a round neckline and bustle back as style notes of the costume. Matching mitts and a halo of yellow roses further enhanced the gown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Peter Burrelli served the groom as best man.

A wedding dinner was served to 100 guests, with 200 guests attending the reception from 5 to 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Due to the snowstorm a wedding trip will be taken by the young couple at a later date. They will reside at 304 East Lutton street.

Mr. and Mrs. DeSimone are graduates of the New Castle senior high school. The bride is employed at the Johnson Bronze company, while the groom is affiliated with the Standard Steel Spring company.

The parents have improved enormously, she says, but aren't quite modernized yet.

"They still have a tendency to cling to their old-fashioned ideas. But give them time."

It's too bad I did not start my custom-writing business sooner.

I could probably have made a profitable little deal with that 18-year-old parent-reformer.

The chances are that I shall never start this business firm of mine, after all.

Bu do keep on sending me your problems. Let's work them out together.

If all of us could sit down and tell one another our troubles, share our experiences and give of whatever little wisdom we may have—what a pleasant world this could be.

Just the kind of world it was intended to be!

Drivers' Tests Here On Tuesday

State police will conduct an examination of prospective motor vehicle operators beginning at 10 a.m. Tuesday. No tests will be held after 3:30 p.m., when the examination squad departs for Butler barracks to perform road patrol duties.

Persons whose learner's permits expired last Tuesday, November 28, can receive an examination tomorrow on those learner's permits because snow prevented the holding of tests last week.

The examinations will be conducted in the order of candidates' arrival at the station, hence the sooner one arrives the quicker the test will be given.

Should it snow today, motorists are requested to put chains on their cars. No tests will be given when streets are slippery and cars are without chains.

Music Club Chorus To Sing "The Messiah", On December 10

"The Messiah," by George Frederick Handel, most magnificent of all oratorios, will be presented in the Cathedral at 8 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 10, by the Music club chorus.

It is particularly fitting that this presentation will be the first large gathering of any group since this, "The Big Show of 1950". One should pause and think, that surely the world needs its "Prince of Peace" today more than ever.

The Music club chorus of 200 voices is pleased to give to New Castle and vicinity this Christmas message of peace and good will to all men.

This performance will be the 12th consecutive year that "The Messiah" has been presented in New Castle. Handel divided "The Messiah" into three sections: Part one contains the prophecy and narrative of the nativity; part two tells the story of the passion and resurrection, reaching a climax in the mighty "Hallelujah Chorus"; part three deals with man's hope of his own resurrection.

No better tribute could be paid "The Messiah" than that given by a famous critic, who wrote on the occasion of the work's bicentennial in 1942: "In the 200 years that have come and gone since 'The Messiah' first brought tears to the eyes of its creator and filled him with a vision of heaven and 'the great God himself', it has moved and thrilled music lovers perhaps than any other choral work both church and secular."

Mrs. William J. Caldwell is the director of the Music club chorus. It is her leadership and fine, undertanding musiciansip which has given the chorus the prestige which it enjoys in the community today.

The chorus, whose members include the finest musicians in Lawrence county and surrounding communities, has a personnel of 225. They have been practicing diligently since October to make this, the 12th presentation of "The Messiah", the best they have ever given With the inspired leadership and skill of their director, Mrs. Caldwell, this accomplishment seems certain, and a magnificent performance is anticipated.

Mrs. Caldwell and the chorus will have the accomplished support of Mrs. Richard K. Allen at the piano and Edwin Lewis at the organ.

Their superlative accompaniments are well known to the New Castle music lovers.

The Ministerial Association sponsors this sacred performance and many churches suspend services for that evening to enable their congregations to hear the glory and majesty of the inspiring "Messiah" at the Cathedral. Everyone who wishes may come and hear. The public is cordially invited.

New York Warned New Storm On Way

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(INS)—The U. S. Weather Bureau posted southeast storm warnings from Block Island to the Delaware Breakwaer early today in advance of a new wind and rain storm moving up from North Carolina.

(At 4 a.m. (EST) the storm was reported still over the central region of North Carolina.

Weather bureau forecasters said the storm will not be as severe as that one that lashed the northeast November 25 and caused millions of dollars of property damage.

Winds in the New York area are expected to reach 35 or 45 miles an hour by noon with some higher gusts. The forecast predicts occasionally heavy rains and showers over the northeast at the height of the storm, probably between noon and 3 p.m. (EST).

Forecasters said the total rainfall wil lnot exceed the one-inch level.

Temperatures are eypected to remain in the upper 50s through the height of the storm and then fall to about 35 degrees by tomorrow morning.

Weather bureau officials said the brunt of the storm is expected to pass close to or to the west of New York City.

NOT TO BE SNEEZED AT

Good health is sure a very desirable thing. For ages people have been trying to keep healthy.

Some of these rare diseases get a lot of attention and we read newspaper articles about them.

The common cold is not to be sneezed at. It probably causes as much trouble as all the other diseases. Perhaps there are several different kinds of colds.

Some people are allergic to something. They sneeze and wheeze and say they have a cold.

Dad gets a cold and his nose is all stobbed ub.

The doctors are studying about the problem and things look a little more favorable than they did when Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever.

Alliance Church Men Remove Snow

In a cooperative project, involving members of the church, neighbors and the city streets department, a giant snow removal party took place Saturday at the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, in order that services could be held Sunday.

Falling snow from a roof top brought down a porch on the house adjoining the church Saturday and men removed the remains to the rear yard to prevent injury to pedestrians. With the aid of a city rented high lift and two trucks, one donated by a member of the church, tons and tons of snow were removed from the street adjoining the church to provide parking space.

A borrowed snow scraper, operated by Paul Blews, cleared several parking lots in the vicinity of the church to aid in the parking problem. Neighbors furnished coffee while the project continued.

Rev. George Jones, pastor of the church, who supervised the work, wishes to thank all, including the city, the neighbors and men of the church for their cooperation in the effort which enabled services to be held in the church Sunday.

Installation of officers will take place at the January meeting. The ninth grade class of St. Mary's school will come into the Sodality on December 8. Rev. Fr. Albert Goralka is the director of the Sodality.

Mission Records Heaviest Month Of Its History

November records of the City Rescue Mission reveal the heaviest load ever carried by the downtown institution it was reported today by Superintendent, Rev. F. D. Marshall. Requests for meals by transients, along with beds furnished and clothing dispensed set an all time with the Mission workers attempting to meet the demands placed before them by the indigent.

The City Mission, the records report, furnished 1,447 meals the past month an increase of 320 over October. Beds were slept in 487 times while 436 articles of clothing were given to the transients as well as the local needy individuals and families. In the religious work, 846 attended servires at the Mission, with two conversions and 34 requests for prayer. The Mission head filled two speaking engagements and two singing requests.

Demands Heavy

To keep up this highly accelerated program, the poblic was rally to the support of the Mission, the Superintendent reported. Although a member of the Community Chest, the work being done exceeds the funds permitted to be spent by the chest on such work. The citizens of New Castle have aided marvelously in the work, Rev. Marshall told a reporter, but additional help would aid the workers to continue the good work rather than curtail their activities.

The need has arisen for more towels to be used in the shower room as men nightly take their baths which is a must before they can sleep on a Mission cot. The food needs, likewise are great if substantial meals are to be provided the transient before they start their long journies to distant cities. A typical meal includes potatoes, green vegetable, fruit, coffee and bread and meat when available. Each Sunday for dinner meatloaf is on the menu for the men staying over in the city.

Pack Ninety Baskets

Over 90 baskets were packed by the mission for Thanksgiving and given to those in need. A chicken was in most baskets and when these run out or funds were exhausted, other meat was substituted. Aiding in this work were: Mrs. Walter Hindman; Mrs. John Gwin, assistant; Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, president of Auxiliary; Mrs. Anna Harris and Mrs. F. D. Marshall. Delivering were: Rev. F. D. Marshall, Howard Earl, Walter Hindman, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Steinmetz. Kenneth Lutz and Ed. Rhodes.

Christmas will be no exception this year at the mission with the staff hoping to provide a dinner for the boys and girls and likewise one for the men of the mission. Toys will be given to the youngsters at the annual Christmas program.

The Mission has need for clothing at this time as many requests are being received. All calls from local residents will be answered promptly by Rev. Marshall or his aid Howard Earl. Residents who call the Mission at 430 will have a representative call and pick up the surplus clothes.

'Washing Machine' Saves City Money

Arthur Harris, parking meter service operator, has a "washing machine" which daily is saving the city money. Here's how:

Whenever a parking meter "clock" goes out of "whack" and needs cleaning, it had to be sent to a factory and it was cleaned at a rate of $3.50, per clock.

Recently council purchased a machine at an approximate cost of $200, which cleans the clocks thoroughly.

During the past week a large number of parking meter clocks have been re-conditioned and cleaned.

New parts were affixed and after the clocks had been cleaned were put on meter standards.

CHRISTENINGS

"Please give me information about church Christenings. I have never attended one and now I am asked to be a Godmother. What should I wear? Do I go right to the church or to the baby's home? What kind of gift do I give? What of money? Do I give a contribution?"

Answer: Go to the infant's home, arriving there about an hour before the ceremony. This will give you time to become acquainted with your charge and to arrive in time at the church.

During the ceremony, the Godmother holds the infant and if there is no nurse, she usually carries it to and from the church unless the mother prefers to do so herself.

Since most Christenings take place at noon or in the afternoon, street-length clothes are proper. You may present a gift of money or wearing apparel — something very handsome! Sometimes the Godmother supplies the Christening dress, unless the child's mother has planned to supply it herself.

A fee is handed to the clergyman, by either the father or the Godfather, in an envelope after the ceremony. This fee, of course, is supplied by the father, even when presented by the Godfather.

The Godmother has nothing to do with any such money transactions.

Question: On what hand does a widow wear her wedding ring; or is there no set rule. Should she wear her wedding ring and engagement ring?

Answer: She may do as she pleases—wear both rings on her left ring finger or on her right ring finger. She may disregard one or both if she so wishes. Her wedding ring is given to her for life or until she wishes to remove it to accept another at her second marriage.

One Cent 'Emergency' Gas Tax In State Is Likely To Continue

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's road building program being planned by Gov.-elect John S. Fine may prompt the state's legislature to re-enact its one-cent "emergency" gasoline tax for another two years.

Continuance of the levy was indicated today following discussions by the governor-designate and his Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock, who is attending the National Highway Conference in Miami. Fine is spending a "working vacation" at Miami Beach.

During his campaign, Fine emphasized that he would continue the road-building program inaugurated by Gov. James H. Duff, and also plan several expansions.

The building of feeder lines to central Philadelphia from the terminus of the recently opened eastern Pennsylvania turnpike is one of the factors which may force re-enactment of the gasoline levy.

Smock told reporters that planned highway construction would be curtailed only if manpower and materials are cut off by the war.

The emergency penny gas tax brings in $40,000,000 a biennium, but it was pointed out that increased traffic due to the turnpike extension may boost this yield.

State-Wide Musical Festivals Planned

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Plans for sponsoring statewide music festivals in 1951-52 are announced by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association at the conclusion of a three-day session.

Details will be worked out by the executive committee.

The association announced it will open its 1951 convention November 29 at Harrisburg.

This year's session was concluded by a parade of 16 high school bands and a drill demonstration by the Valley Forge Military Academy band.

Huge Vote In West Berlin

Reds Are Defied By Election Turnout

BERLIN, Dec. 4.—(INS)—The Social Democrats emerged from the West Berlin municipal elections today still the dominant party in the occupied city. But there were signs that the anti-rearmament stand had lost the Socialists votes.

A record-breaking 89.9 per cent of the approximately 1,600,000 eligible voters went to the polls Sunday despite sleet, rain and Communist efforts to hinder the voting. The tremendous turnout—greater than the display of solidarity in 1948 during the height of the Russian blockade of Berlin—was regarded as a slap in the face against the Kremlin. The Communists had boasted earlier that they would dissuade West Berliners from voting.

Not Dissuaded By Threats

The western commandants in the occupied city expressed pleasure at the voting turnout and declared:

"The world will take notice that Berliners are not to be dissuaded by Communist threats and blandishments from exercising their Democratic rights".

Though the social democrats remained the largest single party in the new parliament that will direct the affairs of the western sector for the next four years, they polled only 44.6 per cent of the vote. This unofficial tabulation shows a drop of almost 20 per cent from the 1948 elections.

House And Senate Rush Action On New Tax Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—(INS)—Both the House and Senate rushed action today on an excess profits tax bill and prospects are definitely improved for its passage before the year-end.

The House prepared to call up three billion dollar Ways and Means Committee bill for passage under a rule limiting debate to two days. Democratic leaders predict that it will be passed late Tuesday.

The Senate Finance Committee opened public hearings on the legislation with Treasury Secretary Snyder as the first witness.

A House battle over a Republican move to amend the bill is in prospect as a result of minority report by the 10 GOP members of the Ways and Means Committee denouncing the legislation as "inflationary" and insisting that it will hamper the defense program.

WILLIAM FRENGEL
wishes to announce the opening

MONDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1950
featuring
THE 'CAPTAIN'S CORNER' LOUNGE
Excellent cusine—dinner music
On the New Youngstown Road — Two Miles From the City
(The formal grand opening of Frengel's will be announced in the near future)

Will your tax dollars ride these wires?

You're 70 feet up on a steel tower, looking along a modern electric transmission line. You've seen them—steel or wood—striding across the countryside, sometimes a quarter mile to a step, carrying vital electric energy to market from the power plants or power dams where electricity is produced.

These electric highways cost many, many thousands of dollars per mile to build. That's a good thing to remember when you hear proposals that the federal government spend tax money—your money—to duplicate thousands of miles of such lines now in use.

The question comes up in connection with the government's vast program for giant dams on America's rivers. At some of these dams, it's financially sensible to produce electricity as a by-product . . . at others, it isn't.

Where it is economically good sense to produce electricity, how about the transmission lines? If the government builds lines to distribute government electricity separately, it will cost you and other taxpayers many more billions of dollars.

But that is not necessary. Most of the lines needed are already in existence, built largely by the business-managed electric companies of the country.

And these companies stand ready to buy and distribute government-made electricity along with the power they produce themselves, at rates fixed by local, state or federal governments.

This arrangement would keep your money out of duplicate—and wasteful—new lines. It would allow all users of electricity to get the benefit of savings, if any, made possible at the dams. And it would continue the present local control that is lost when the federal government runs things.

Flood Danger At Pittsburgh

More Snow Forecast For Western Penna.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Snow storms are expected to heap three to five inches of snow over western Pennsylvania today, increasing the danger of moderate floods in the Pittsburgh district.

Portions of eastern Ohio and northern West Virginia also are endangered by rising rivers.

Although rainfall subsided over the Pittsburgh basin during the night, the flood stage of 25 feet probably will be reached about 12 p. m. EST today at Pittsburgh's point where the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers meet to form the Ohio.

A further two-foot rise is expected by evening and it could be much higher if the weather bureau forecast of snow is rain instead.

Prevent Dangerous Flood

Yesterday's steady rainfalls and unseasonably high temperatures thawed the residue of a 31.3-inch snowfall, which paralyzed Pittsburgh a week ago. But the weather bureau reported lower temperatures today will check further thawing and prevent dangerous flood conditions.

High temperatures near 33 were forecasted for western Pennsylvania today and 28 to 32 for Ohio.

Moderate flooding will be general today on the Monongahela and its tributaries. The flood stage has been exceeded at Braddock, Pa., and approached at Charleroi, Pa.

The Ohio river, according to the weather bureau, will reach the 33-foot flood stage at Steubenville, O., and the 36-foot stage at Wheeling, W. Va., at noon today.

U.M.T. Would Have Far-Reaching Effects On Nation's Colleges

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Universal Military Training would have far-reaching effects on the nation's colleges, according to Pennsylvania State College President Milton S. Eisenhower.

Addressing the annual Faculty-Trustee dinner at State College, Eisenhower said the nation undoubtedly needed military manpower but "not at such a level that its cost would crush the very free institutions it is designed to protect."

Sacrifices would be inevitable, he added, and colleges would have to face them with wisdom.

"Our strength must be of combined military, economic, social and moral elements and strength of this kind may be attained only with a high level of education and understanding among the maximum number of citizens."

He said flatly that potential soldiers should be given the choice of serving in the armed forces under UMT at any time between the ages of 19 and 26.

Should UMT be confined to the 18-20 age bracket, he added, its continuance "could cause this nation to decline with great rapidity—economically, intellectually and even militarily."

WHY NURSERY SCHOOLS?

There is a lot of opposition to the idea of nursery schools. Many people feel that to send a child to a nursery school is a sign that the mother is neglecting her job. They feel that three and four-year-olds should not be placed in a group of other children.

But let's see why those who favor nursery schools do so. In a little leaflet published by the National Association for Nursery Education at Roosevelt College in Chicago (five cents each) James Hymes presents the case. He speaks for those of us who believe that nursery-school experience is good for young children. He writes, in part:

". . . The nursery school can have certain important yet expensive equipment which few individual homes can afford: jungle gyms, easels and large sets of blocks, for instance . . . the nursery school can have a wider variety of other important educational materials . . . many, many books for young children, puzzles, paint and clay, work benches, musical instruments and materials for rhythms; many dolls and varied housekeeping materials."

Through these and through such experiences as gardening and care of pets, the nursery school spurs the imagination, contributes to the growth of ideas, and stimulates a curiosity that can be a basis for good learning at all later age levels.

But this is only one reason for nursery schools. Tomorow we'll discuss other important ones.

TO PULL BABY'S TEETH

BALTIMORE—Stuart Gary Bark, 32 days old, is going to have all his teeth pulled out.

He has two.

Stuart was born with two front teeth poking through his lower gum. Like two little needles, they've irritated his tongue and caused him considerable unhappiness and his folks lots of sleepless nights.

Dr. Charles Loveman, Stuart's dentist, plans to extract the teeth. He said if Stuart kept them, he might be able to work them loose with his tongue and fingers and swallow them, with dangerous results.

Report Big Deposit Of Iron Ore Found In Pennsylvania

READING, Dec. 4.—A 3,000,000-ton deposit of magnetite iron ore, sufficiently high in quality to warrant mining operations, has been proved out on land recently purchased by the Bethlehem Steel Co. near Morgantown, about 15 miles southwest of Reading, it was learned here today.

Eighteen test holes indicate the lode to be concentrated in a 2000 square-foot area about 1500 feet under the surface. It is believed to be about 1000 feet deep.

Officials of Bethlehem Steel Co. would not confirm the existence of the ore, but Revelle W. Brown, president of the Reading Co., disclosed that he had been approached, if "only in a general way", about carrying the ore out by railroad.

Lights On Again In Altoona Saturday

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 4.—(INS)—The lights came on again in Altoona Saturday just a week after the town of nearly 90,000 was thrown into darkness by a devastating sleet storm.

About 50 per cent of the homes were still without electricity but crews had succeeded in restoring high tension wires into the town and as soon as lines into private homes can be repaired they will have power again.

Full power was restored Saturday in the business district, which had to depend upon candles and lanterns for a week.

One citizen related that despite the inconvenience and handicaps, the town managed to get along fairly well. Emergency service was established at one veterans' and three civilian hospitals after they had been dark for nearly 24 hours.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Mrs. Stafford was the kind of mother who thought her eight-year-old daughter was more advanced than any other little girl in the neighborhood. She included her in the most sophisticated adult conversation, and even allowed her to use lipstick and Chanel Number Five.

When one of those new-fangled, arena style theatres under a tent came to town, therefore, to present Shakespeare's "Julias Caesar," Mrs. Stafford took her daughter along to see it as a matter of course. The little girl was painfully attentive and well-behaved throughout the performance, and it was only after her mother had steered her out of the tent and toward the family station wagon that she burst into tears. Genuinely surprised, Mrs. Stafford said, "What's the matter, darling? Didn't you enjoy the play?" "Yes," sobbed the little girl, "but aren't we going to go and see the elephants?"

A lady from Beacon Hill in Boston was taken to a session of the U. N. When she got home friends asked her what it was like. "Dreadful," said the lady; "It was simply crawling with foreigners!"

NEAR FLOOD STAGE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Waterways in the 24,000-square mile Susquehanna river basin were choked today as warm weather sent melted snow in creeks and rivers.

The federal-state flood forecasting service at Harrisburg announced "light to moderate rises" on the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers in central Pennsylvania. No flooding is indicated.

The service pointed out, however, that snow covered only about 30 per cent of the basin when the warm weather swept across Pennsylvania.

These Folks Once Suffered, Too!

Mary Helen Deomes was rundown and fatigued due to a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Mrs. Verna Riley, suffered stomach distress due to a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

Mr. Grady Thomas suffered from nagging pains due to a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin.

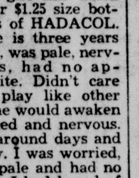

TODAY THEY HAVE RELIEVED THE CAUSE OF THEIR SICKNESS

Aches and Pains, Stomach Disturbances, Indigestion, Fatigue, Due to a Lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in Their Systems

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Has Helped People Like These with Such Deficiencies

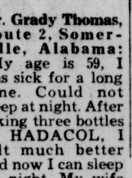

Mrs. Dennis Deomes, 111 Florence Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas: "My little girl has taken four $1.25 size bottles of HADACOL. She is three years old, was pale, nervous, had no appetite. Didn't care to play like other children. At night, she would awaken many times frightened and nervous. She would only sit around days and was very easy to cry. I was worried, because she was so pale and had no appetite at all. Then, I had heard of the wonders that HADACOL had done for so many people, both young and old. So I decided to give it to my little girl. I did so, and the third day after she began taking HADACOL, she was more cheerful and began to eat. She awoke hungry on the 3rd morning, and has been both eating and sleeping fine ever since, and isn't nervous at all. She is as cheerful as any child can be. Thanks to the makers of HADACOL, we are a HADACOL family. My little girl's name is Mary Helen Deomes."

Mrs. Verna Riley, 514 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, Indiana: "I had been sick off and on for a long time. I am now 51 years old. After I heard about HADACOL, I have taken two bottles. I don't have that fullness in my stomach and I can eat anything I wish. I sleep much better at night now. Myself, I wouldn't do without HADACOL. My family also takes HADACOL."

Mr. Grady Thomas, Route 2, Somerville, Alabama: "My age is 59, I was sick for a long time. Could not sleep at night. After taking three bottles of HADACOL, I felt much better and now I can sleep all night. My wife says she believes I could sleep a week. I can do a full day's work on my farm. Before taking HADACOL, I couldn't work more than an hour or two at a time. I am very thankful for learning about this product."

Mrs. Marjorie Mullins, Jewellridge, Virginia: "I feel like HADACOL has helped me in many ways. My health was very poor, till I decided to give it a trial. I got one economy size bottle. It helped so much, I decided I wouldn't be without it. So now I am on my 4th large bottle. Before I took it, I wasn't able to do my housework, and care for my family. Every month, I would have to give up and think I was going to die. But thanks to HADACOL I never feel those weak spells any more. I tell my neighbors about it. I do my housework, my washing and never felt better. I am 43, but don't feel like my age is getting me down now. I am the mother of eight children and have been a widow for 10 years. I worked hard and sent my children to school, and now they are old enough to help me."

Lloyd E. Scheultz, 4045 Erie Avenue, Houston, Texas: "Before I took HADACOL, I did not know what it was to sleep for over an hour at night. Since using HADACOL I sleep all night without pains. I have taken three bottles of HADACOL and the relief has been wonderful. I have started on my fourth bottle."

Mrs. C. H. Strack, 605½ West Second Avenue, Pine Bluff, Arkansas: "Before using HADACOL, I was rundown, nervous, and had upset stomach. My friends could not understand the way I was acting. After I took HADACOL I felt better than I have ever felt. I am not at all nervous and my friends have remarked at the change in me. I am forever grateful for what HADACOL has done for me. I wish to let the whole world know how much I praise HADACOL."

Bennie Hollingsworth, Box 8, Simms, Louisiana: "I am ten years old. I have been sick for a good while. I was nervous. I could not sleep at night. I did not want to study my school lessons. Then, some of my friends told me about HADACOL. Now I have taken only three bottles of HADACOL. I can say that HADACOL has helped me a lot. Now, I can sleep. I am not so nervous. I do not hate to get my school lessons. I want to thank my friends for telling me about HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LEBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering, Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged.

He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension . . . and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated, "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities in public life in behalf of the working man are too numerous to mention here.

It was only natural that in his sincere desire to serve the people, that Senator LeBlanc would seek and find a product that would tend to assist the poor and ailing, that would help them lead a more happy and contented life. His tireless study and effort resulted in today's wonderful HADACOL.

Why Wait?

Why experiment, why give up, why suffer from a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin? Why not make up your mind to start taking HADACOL today with the positive assurance that it will help you if you suffer from such deficiencies or the Senator will gladly send back your money. You have to be satisfied, and since Senator LeBlanc has proven by his past activities that he is your friend, you know you can depend on what he says and what he does. Ask for HADACOL now. Trial size $1.25; large family or hospital size $3.50.

Titans Open Floor Card December 9 With Allegheny

Six Lettermen Back, Have Tough Schedule

Westminster college cagers open their 1950-51 basketball season this week, playing host to Allegheny college in a Dec. 9 clash on the Titans' home court.

Playing their toughest schedule in recent years, Westminster will meet in consecutive order during mid-December and early January George Pepperdine, Duquesne, the University of Detroit, St. Joseph's, Arizona State, Carnegie Tech and Maryland State.

Six Lettermen Back

Despite the loss of four starters from last year's squad, the Titans will be able to start a well seasoned quintet made up of six lettermen, nine former squadmen and 12 freshmen.

The Westminster quintet, which last year won 25 games while losing four, will be a junior-dominated team this season. Possible starters will be 6'4" Ed Halas and 6'3" Jerry Sybert at forward posts; 6'3" Pat King at center, with Don Meyers, Johnny Abraham and Jerry Hyder, all ranging over the six-foot mark, fighting for guard positions. All are juniors except Meyers, a sophomore, and Hyder, a senior.

Six At Farrell

Six "home" games have been shifted to Farrell high school gymnasium pending completion of the new Westminster college field house. These games are with George Pepperdine (Dec. 11), Detroit (Dec. 30), Arizona State (Jan. 6), Pitt (Feb. 5), Duquesne (Feb. 8) and W&J (Mar. 9).

Other home games, including the Dec. 9 contest with Allegheny will be played in the present college gymnasium on the campus.

Penn State Stars Accept Invitations To North-South Game

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Penn State seniors Vince O'Bara of Johnstown and John Smidansky of Munhall, Pa., today accepted invitations to play with the North team in the North-South football game late this month.

State coach Rip Engle, whose team meets Pitt today in Pittsburgh, announced their acceptance. Engle is one of the North's three coaches.

O'Bara played the T quarterback spot for the Nittany Lions and Smidansky excelled as a pass-catching end.

Villanova Trims St. Mary's, 13-7

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Less than 200 persons braved a drenching rain to watch Villanova down St. Mary's 13-7 yesterday in soggy Kezar Stadium in San Francisco.

The game was played in ankle-deep mud.

Bisons Retain League Lead

(By International News Service)

The Buffalo Bisons are just managing to hold onto their slim lead in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division.

The Bisons whipped the New Haven Eagles, 6-3, last night to stay a half game ahead of the idle Hershey Bears.

On the other side of the league, the Cincinnati Mohawks are making life miserable for the Cleveland Barons, who head the Western Division.

Mohawks Win

While the Barons were idle, the Mohawks toppled Springfield, 4-2, to pull within a single game of the Barons.

With the league race better than a third over, Cleveland and Cincinnati are the only two clubs fighting it out in the west while Buffalo and Hershey lead the rest of the eastern clubs by a good margin.

Providence beat Indianapolis, 6-4, in the circuit's only other game.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Western Conference Floor Card Starts

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Three western conference basketball teams swing into action tonight in tune-up games that may give Big Ten fans a line on the relative strength of their favorites.

Ohio State, the Big Ten's defending champion, will play host at Columbus to Kansas State and formally inaugurate Floyd Stahl as Buckeye coach.

Illinois and Iowa, both hailed as top contenders for the Big Ten crown, also go into action tonight.

Hillsville Team Given Banquet

Johnson club of Hillsville gave a banquet Saturday evening at a local eating establishment for the Hillsville team of the Lawrence County Baseball league.

Over 40 members and friends of the team attended the banquet, an annual affair for the Hillsville group.

Frank Conti, chairman of the sports committee of the club, opened the meeting and called upon Rev. Fr. Mastrangelo to give the invocation.

After the meal Mr. Conti gave a short talk congratulating the team and introduced the master of ceremonies for the evening, Sheriff Frank L. "Jewey" Coen.

The sheriff introduced the guests for the evening and entertained the group with short stories between introductions. Introduced were:

Father Mastrangelo, "Uncle Joe" Caruso, Frank Lorello, manager of the team; Alex Samuels, county league president; Charles Moser and Harry Reith.

Father Mastrengelo's short talk on religion, and gentlemanlike conduct in sports, was a feature of the evening's program.

Pulaskis Meet Ambridge Five Wednesday Night

The K. Pulaski "Big Five" basketball team will open the 1950-51 floor season at home Wednesday night by meeting the strong Ex-Ambridge High Stars at 8:15 o'clock it was announced today by Business Manager Eddie Carr. Coach Teddy Kolcz has his team all set.

Through no fault of the K. Pulaski Club, and no fault of the American "Red Heads" either, the scheduled game Sunday at the Arena was not played, but will be played at a later date at the K. P. floor, Carr announced.

Arrive Too Late

The girls arrived in New Castle at 7:45 o'clock last evening too late to play the scheduled game. The bus bearing the girls team suffered a breakdown at Zelienople, the radiator springing a leak, and it took nearly an hour to repair. Had it not been for the mishap, the girls would have been here in time, Tex Riffle, the business manager stated.

The Pulaskis had the floor at the Arena rented from 6 to 8 o'clock. Quite a number of fans were awaiting the presence of the girls, and the Pulaskis refunded the money.

It was a very unfortunate situation, but could not be helped. It was the first cancellation for the girls in three years.

Richmond Leads IL In Batting

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Don Richmond, who will be trying for an infield position under Marty Marion's new regime at St. Louis, was officially designated today as the International League batting champion for 195.

Richmond, slugging third baseman for the champion Rochester Red Wings, won the crown with a mark of .333. He led the league in runs scored (128), made the most hits (191) and led in total bases (191).

Russ Derry of the Wings and Chet Laabs of Jersey City tied for the home run leadership with 30 apiece.

Rochester copped the team batting honors with a mark of .280.

Cardinal coaches and fans agree on Wham as the best defensive end in the league. He is one of the hardest tacklers and surest chargers in football.

GRIBBLE DIDN'T STOP NAVL—Army's Eugene Gribble (21) of New Castle, playing safety position tried in vain to break up Navy's second touchdown in Municipal stadium, Philadelphia. Jim Baldinger, Navy end from Pittsburgh, leaps into the air in the second quarter to take Bob Zastrow's pass for his team's second T. D. as Navy beat Army 14 to 2.

Six Games Carded For Tuesday By High School Basketball Teams

Six games are on the schedule for Tuesday night for Lawrence county high school basketball teams.

Fans of East Brook, Shenango and Union will get their frist opportunities to see these teams in action as they play their first home games of the 1950-5' season.

East Brook entertains Zelienople, Shenango will play host to Mercer, and Union has a game with its Alumni. Wampum travels to complete the card.

Mt. Jackson will open its season Wednesday night at Mt. Jackson with Springfield township.

Tuesday night's games will be the first for Union and Bessemer, who had last Friday night's games canceled. The four teams that did play suffered losses and all will be seeking their first wins.

NOTE TO INDEPENDENTS

Lawrence county independent basketball teams are urged to get their schedules into The News or notify The News of games to be played as soon as possible. Results of games should be turned into The News before 9 o'clock the morning following the games to insure publication.

Boston Bruins Upset Rangers

(By International News Service)

Bad Bill Ezinicki, who won the distinction last season of serving most time in the penalty box, has resumed his rough tactics in the National Hockey League.

At New York last night, the Boston Bruins defeated the New York Rangers, 5 to 3, but the highlight of the game was a brawl between Ezinicki and Eddie Kullman.

Maple Leafs Win

The Toronto Maple Leafs came from behind in the third period to tie the Chicago Blackhawks, 3 to 3.

The tie stretched Toronto's first place lead over the Detroit Red Wings to eight points.

Detroit bowed to the Montreal Canadiens, 4 to 1.

In this strange world of ours we generally have to pay for what we get, including world championships.

RAUB IN FISHING HALL OF FAME

R. E. RAUB of Edenburg is now an occupant of the Fishing Hall of Fame, having achieved that honor for having caught the "Muskie King of Quinte's Isle for 1950." It is in the Picton, Ont., Canada, section.

The "Muskie" was 48 inches in length, 21½ inches in girth and weighed 31 pounds.

The Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce, at Picton, Ont., wrote Raub, as follows:

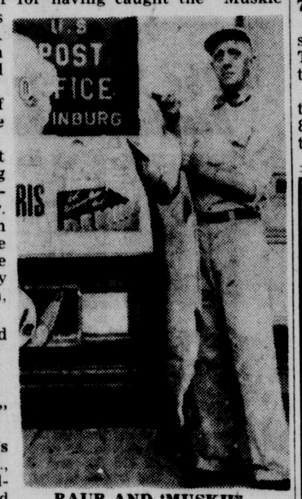

"You will be pleased to know that you have been crowned 'Muskie King of Quinte's Isle for 1950'. Your 31-pounder was the biggest of the year.

"Your name will be inscribed on the Fishing Hall of Fame plaque we keep here. You will receive a plaque as well as a rod and reel, donated by Colin and Douglas Carter, Picton, Ont.

"With congratulations and good wishes,

Sincerely,
PHILIP DODDS,
Secretary Chamber of Commerce."

MR. AND MRS. Fred Van Lennep's Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., was the leading purchaser at standard-bred auction sales conducted throughout the country during the past two months. Representatives of the blue grass nursery paid $66,200 for 18 head which included racing stock, brood mares, two weanlings and a stallion. The ten top buyers in the nation laid out $381,000 for 75 harness horses, most of them yearlings. The ten Grand Circuit owners represented nine states with South Carolina scoring the lone double. Top price paid by the Castleton Farm was $16,000 for the yearling filly Proximite, full sister to the great trotting mare Proximity. Castleton paid the longest price in history for a weanling by going to $6,000 for a Victory Song colt. They also increased their stallion ranks by adding the California sire Perk Axworthy for $2,500. Holding down second place was the Hayes Fair Acres Stable, DuQuoin, Ill., which paid $49,000 for three yearlings and a weanling. Their top purchase was the Volomite yearling Voting Trust which cost $26,500.

Charles-Barone Battle Tuesday

Heavyweight Toga Will Be At Stake

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4.—(INS)—The advertised heavyweight champion fight between Ezzard Charles and Nick Barone tomorrow night may give Cincinnati boxing fans a ringside seat at a mild workout for the conquerer of once-mighty Joe Louis.

The 24-year-old ex-Marine may have the stuff to go all the way. Barone's manager, Henry Andrews, points out that in 52 professional fights his fighter never has been knocked down.

Charles Favored

But the wise money is not so confident of Barone's staying powers. Charles is a 6 to 1 favorite.

Charles is expected to be at 184 to 185 pounds and Barone about 180. It is the 29-year-old Negro's fifth defense of the title he won in June, 1949, after Joe Louis' first retirement.

Al Tate To Play In Blue-Gray Game At Montgomery, Ala.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Al Tate, Illinois University tackle from New Castle, has been named on the Northern team which will meet a selected team from the South in the annual Blue-Gray football game at Montgomery December 30.

The Northern team, coached by Ray Eliot of Illinois and Rip Engle of Penn State have almost a complete roster set for the game

Strong Lineup

Champ Pickens, manager of the Blue-Gray Association, said the "Yankees" will have the following players.

Backs: Bob Petuska, Wisconsin; John Glorioso, Missouri; Dave Skrien, Minnesota; Dick Flowers, Northwestern; Bince O'Bara, Penn State; Chuck Taylor, Cornell; and Louis Roberts, William Rhodes and Alan Corbo, Pennsylvania.

Ends: Tom Watson, Ohio; John Smidansky, Penn State; Harvey Sampson, Cornell; and Tony Klimek, Illinois.

Tackles: Lloyd Hill, Brown; Ray Mantone, Villanova; and Albert Tate, Illinois.

Guards: Leo Cahill and Charles Brown, Illinois; Warren Davis, Colgate; and Vincent Digrande, Cornell.

Center: Ray Wietecha, Northwestern.

The "Rebel" team will be coached by L. R. (Dutch) Mayer of Texas Christian, Art Guepe of Virginia and Wally Butts of Georgia.

Mikan Sparkles As Lakers Win

(By International News Service)

The Minneapolis Lakers, paced by George Mikan, are only one game behind first-place Fort Wayne today in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

Mikan, with 38 points, led the Lakers to a 95 to 83 triumph over the Philadelphia Warriors, the Eastern Division leaders.

Joe Fulks established a league record for foul shooting as he netted 15 consecutive free throws before missing in the last period—to run his total to 49 straight.

Pistons Win

Meanwhile, the Fort Wayne Pistons preserved their lead by nipping the Rochester Royals, 80 to 79.

The New York Knickerbockers survived a last period rally by the Tri-Cities Blackhawks to win, 100 to 92.

The Syracuse Nationals defeated the Indianapolis Olympians, 84 to 81 and the Boston Celtics topped the Baltimore Bullets, 97 to 85.

Minor League Baseball Men Now In Annual Conflab

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Major and minor league baseball bigwigs begin their annual meetings in St. Petersburg today and the critical world situation will get uppermost attention.

The minor leagues take over this week and the majors go to bat next week, but throughout both sessions provisions will be made for the game in case of a third world war.

Other items on the agenda include the minor league draft, controversial bonus rule, television inroads on minor league attendance, and the will be the usual bartering and trading for players with close attention on the Boston Red Sox and other teams trying to "build over".

Stephens for Brissie

A tremendous "chain" deal touched off by a Boston swap of Vern Stephens for Philadelphia A's pitcher Lou Brissie was reported to be in the making.

But the problems involved in a possible war undoubtedly overshadow a great deal of the usual annual business. Baseball men remember that nine years ago when their meeting ended Pearl Harbor was attacked.

Manpower and other operating problems confronted in World War II will come up for discussion.

George Washington Junior High School Opens With Bessemer

George Washington junior high school basketball team will open its 1950-51 basketball season Tuesday afternoon with Bessemer junior high school at the George Washington floor.

Only other exhibition games carded by the Little Presidents before the opening of the Junior WPIAL season in January are games with Beaver Falls on December 12 and a return battle at Bessemer on December 15.

Head coach Clark McClelland has Joe Lane, Dal Matthews and Craig McBurney back from last year's team and expects help from David Bongivengo, Bill Reiber, Lee Pears, Tom Crawford, Bruce Brown, Bob Prioletti, Paul Kreiling, Mark Tate, Clyde Nicholson, Francis Anastasia, Howard Myers and Earl Smith.

Other junior high school teams in the county are asked to turn their schedules into the News as soon as possible.

Snead Captures Miami Tournament, Gets $2,000 Prize

MIAMI, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, the nation's top money-winning golfer, added another $2,000 to the coffers today—first prize in the $10,000 Miami Open Tournament.

Snead, playing out of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., turned in a 72-hole score of 267, 13 under par and five strokes better than his closest challenger.

Snead's 66 on the final round yesterday was not the best mark of the day on the Miami Springs Country Club Course but it helped him win his fourth victory in the Tourney's 27-year history.

His winnings for the year now total $35,758.

Gavilan Meets Janiro Tonight

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Kid Gavilan, stylish Cuban clipper, will be a 13-10 choice at ringtime to whip young Tony Janiro of Youngstown in the feature 10-round match of Cleveland's 25th annual Christmas fund boxing show tonight.

Janiro fought two great fights with ex-middleweight champion Rocky Graziano in Madison Square Garden this year, drawing in one bout and losing a close one in the other.

In another 10-round matches, middleweights Walter Cartier meets Jimmy Sherrer and Ernie Durando tangles with Harold Green and heavyweight Bob Baker fights Abel Cestac. A crowd of 11,000 is expected.

National Grid Loop More Complicated

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—If things aren't complicated enough in the National Football League race, just think about the possibility of a double playoff before the playoff for the pro grid championship.

Both the American and National Divisions of the new "peace and plenty" league can very well be headed for just such a lucre-studded finale.

The Cleveland Browns and the New York Giants have a game left apiece (this Sunday) and each has a 9-2 mark. If the Giants beat the Eagles and the Browns beat the Redskins the American Division race ends in a tie. This produces playoff No. 1.

Giants-Browns Win

The Giants kept their piece of first place by walloping the New York Yanks, 51 to 7, Sunday while Lou Groza booted the Eagles out of the race for the Browns, 13 to 7.

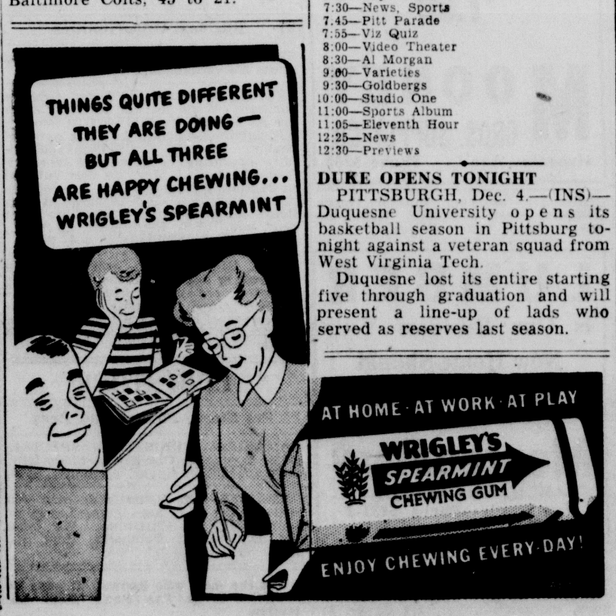

The Rams trounced Green Bay, 51 to 14 while the Bears were upset, 20 to 10 by the Chicago Cardinals. The Bears have a game Sunday with the Detroit Lions and if they win they play the Rams in Los Angeles, December 17.

Steelers Lose 24-7

A Giant-Cleveland playoff—if necessary—will take place the same day in Cleveland.

In other games played, Bill Dudley and Sammy Baugh led the Red Skins to a 24 to 7 triumph over Pittsburgh.

The Detroit Lions tripped the Baltimore Colts, 45 to 21.

DUKE OPENS TONIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 4.—(INS)—Duquesne University opens its basketball season in Pittsburg tonight against a veteran squad from West Virginia Tech.

Duquesne lost its entire starting five through graduation and will present a line-up of lads who served as reserves last season.

THANKS, FOLKS, for your patronage at our curb service this season. Curb will be closed until spring. We would appreciate your stopping in at the store anytime. Goldendale Dairy, Mt. Jackson.

NOTICE

We sincerely regret that due to traveling difficulties the "All-American Red Heads" girls professional basketball team were unable to arrive at the Arena last night in time for their scheduled game at 6:30 p.m. They did arrive at 7:45, but were unable to play the game because the Arena was booked for a 2-hour time limit and a refund was given just previous to their arrival to those attending the game.

We hope to bring them back later in the season. Our thanks to those fine people who were so patient in waiting for their arrival. Our sincere regret to those who attended the game under those prevailing weather conditions. Details on Sport Page.

Thank you,

PRICE ISN'T EVERYTHING!
When looking for an automobile, either new or used, do not let price alone influence you. The quality of the car deserves much consideration, but more than anything else, consider the selling dealer. The business "record" of the dealer is very important. His policies and his ability and willingness to stand behind his merchandise and agreements AFTER the SALE are what actually determines the soundness of the transaction.
We are determined to see that you are satisfied to the utmost; and we have the experience and equipment to do just that. Why not give us a chance to show you how we do business?

Asks Council To Absolve Children From Paying Tax

Irving Mirisch of Milwaukee, relief manager of the Penn and Victor theaters (manager Leo Lutz is out of the city for a week), today appeared before, and asked council today to absolve children from paying an amusement tax on theater tickets.

Mayor John F. Haven informed Mr. Mirisch that such was impossible under state law. Solicitor Robert White confirmed the mayor's statement.

Mr. Mirisch said that, relative to the tax, he wanted to go on record as protesting it.

He declared that these theaters would not charge children tax but would pass the tax onto adult tickets, which would result in an increase in the cost of admission, which would be higher than at Youngstown theaters.

During the discussion, Mayor Haven informed Mr. Mirisch he had heard of what he termed in the nature of a "bribe" being offered, after the first proposed amusement tax ordinance was voted down.

He said he understood some councilmen were to be given tickets which they were to give out free to children for a Christmas party. One councilman was asked to assume charge of the distribution. The said councilman rejected the offer, it is reported. The mayor intends he stated to investigate it fully because in his opinion it was a "bribe."

Mr. Mirisch said he knew nothing of such an offer having been made.

Memorial Font Is Given To Church

At the Sunday morning Communion service of First Congregational church, the Memorial Font was presented to the congregation by Dr. D. Gordon Jones of Butler, and his brothers Edward D., R. Henry, Emerson P., and William Stanley Jones, sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Jones, who were former members of First Congregational church.

Dr. Jones, donor of the font was unable to be present, and the presentation was made by Rev. Thomas J. Jones, the pastor. Speech of acceptance was made by Henry T. Jones.

Following the ceremony, two children were baptized and dedicated, Craig Allen Greene and John Miles Prosser. Griff. Thomas assisted the pastor in the baptismal service.

Pilot Gives Life To Avoid Hitting Persons In Crowd

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 4—(INS)—A 32-year-old Air Force pilot gave his life to avoid hitting a crowd on a crash landing.

The dead pilot is First Lt. James Arthur Bradley.

Bradley, flying a F-84 Thunderjet, dived to his death in a pasture yesterday a few minutes after taking off from Hensley field.

Operations officers said that Bradley's aircraft caught fire on the take-off, but believed that he could have stopped the plane on the ground and escaped.

However, nearly 100 autos filled with sightseers were parked directly in the path of the plane, and Bradley apparently chose to fly the plane over the cars rather than smash into them.

Base Commander Lt. Col. B. B. Taylor said he would recommend Bradley for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Bus And Auto In Collision; Man Killed

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 4.—(INS)—One man was killed and another injured when an automobile collided with a New York bound Greyhound bus early today near Wilkes-Barre.

Harold Mohr, Jr., of Kingston, driver of the car, died in Wilkes-Barre General hospital shortly after he was admitted. Thomas Reilly, his passenger, was admitted to the hospital with injuries.

Bus passengers reported shaken up were Frank Galazin, of New York; John Aston, of Stroudsburg; John Appleby, of Kingston; Pvt. Peter Gaughan, of Wilkes-Barre, and Henry Hunts, of Wyoming.

agreed that she would not have accepted a ride with a stranger only three blocks from her dormitory home.

Finding of the body ended an intensive search by police and hundreds of Western Michigan students and ROTC cadets.

The frozen body, strangled with the girl's own blue scarf, was found in a melting snowbank by Martin Schilling on his farm.

Rain obliterated any footprints or tire tracks in the area. Sheriff Otto K. Buder said there was no sign of a struggle.

Meanwhile, Buder has ordered a roundup of known sex offenders and has asked the Army for a list of soldiers on leave at the time from nearby Fort Custer.

Elderly Couple Injured In Blast

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Duda, an elderly couple residing at 1935 Morris street, escaped serious injury, but their home was badly damaged about 11:45 a.m. today when a gas explosion ripped through the house, bulging the walls.

It was reported that a gas burner had been left on in the cellar, from which gas was escaping which ignited when Mr. Duda opened the door of the furnace to throw in a shovelful of coal.

Mr. Duda suffered burns about the upper part of the body, and his wife, who has been ill, is suffering from shock. They were taken to the home of relatives.

No fire followed the explosion, it was stated. Shenango township firemen were called to the scene but their services were not required.

plane and escorting jet fighter over the northwest Korean Yalu river border city of Sinuiju.

The American fighter drew off the attackers from the unarmed photo plane which escaped. The U. S. fighter pilot fire two bursts into one of the Mig-15s, then headed southwest. But another of the enemy planes pursued the American jet 100 miles to Pyongyang before the later got away.

Despite day and night American air attacks, Red China's multitudinous hosts kept surging down from the Manchurian border in ever-increasing numbers.

Million Chinese Troops

Gen. MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters declared late Monday that the Chinese Communists have committed at least 1,018,000 troops to the Korean conflict.

The supreme commander's spokesman listed 268,000 Chinese Red soldiers as already at the actual front, facing the vastly outnumbered UN forces.

Another 550,000 are held in "close support" reserve in northernmost Korea and south Manchuria along both sides of the Yalu river border while 200,000 more are moving up from China proper to join the force, MacArthur's office stated.

As the military cirsis mounted steadily, the U. S. Army's chief of staff, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, flew to Korea Monday afternoon from Tokyo where he had spent the morning in conference with Gen. MacArthur and the latter's aides.

MARSHAL TITO GIVES VIEWS ON CRISIS

ger for Europe has increased as a result of the latest developments in Korea?"

The leader of the nation which fears it may become a "European South Korea" in its struggle against the Kremlin-led Cominform countries replied:

"As concerns the latest developments in Korea, I think it would be possible to avoid an extension of the conflict if the United Nations preserve their Sangfroid (composure).

"That is, if they do not for one moment lose sight of the fact that is most important for mankind in these fateful times is to prevent a new world catastrophe.

"It is now no longer a matter of prestige, but of who is prepared to sacrifice more for the preservation of peace, without the question of the existence and independence of any one country in the world being placed at stake."

Police Make Charge Of Larceny Of Auto

Jack Callahan, Croton avenue, was charged by police today before Alderman J. C. Kennedy with larceny of an auto, Callahan having been arrested by Policemen Kovach and Rozzi at 4:25 Sunday, in Neshannock avenue.

The police saw him and two other men driving a car with dealer's plates in East Washington street early Sunday morning.

They wondered why a car with dealer's plates should be operated at so early an hour in the morning, pursued and stopped the car in Neshannock avenue.

The youths with him, who later were discharged, said that Callahan had taken the Ford car from the Craft Motor Car company's lot.

peril, and we must take counsel together on how we stand firm in their defense.

"Trouble always brings us together more closely than ever.

"The latest propaganda effort of the cominform is to drive a wedge between our two peoples.

Wasting Their Effort

"They are wasting their effort. And never more so than at this time when we are waging together, under the United Nations, the struggle in Korea, in which the United States is carrying so heavy a shape of the burden, but where we and other members of the British commonwealth are playing our part.

"The United States and the United Kingdom are two countries with worldwide responsibilities.

"We are, both of us, affected by what happens in every part of the globe — in Europe, where the United States has made such a great contribution in these last years, in the Middle East, in south and southeast Asia, and in the Far East.

"It is natural and useful that we should confer together.

"My aim in these talks is to align our policies in the new and troubled situation in the world and to find the means of upholding what we both known to be right."

Evacuate North Korea?

Coincident with Attlee's arrival in Washington, the French press agency circulated a report from Tokyo—without confirmation and without giving the source—that the American high command already has decided to evacuate North Korea.

Attlee was greeted by Mr. Truman at the foot of the ramp leading from the silver and white plane in which the prime minister crossed the Atlantic.

The president and the prime minister shook hands and engaged in brief conversation. Both men seemed grim.

Others in Parties

Secretary of State Acheson, Defense Secretary Marshall, British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks and other notables were in the party welcoming Attlee, who was accompanied by 17 British officials, including Field Marshall Sir William Slim, chief of the Imperial general staff.

Mr. Truman and his aides left the airport at 9:53 a.m., to return to the White House.

The president and Attlee will meet again tomorrow when the British prime minister will be Mr. Truman's luncheon guest to start their discussions. Attlee is to spend today with the British ambassador.

U.N. FORCES ARE EVACUATING CITY

thin hands were bound behind his back in the macabre self-embrace that is the trademark of North Korean Communist vengeance.

Huge piles of heavy engineering equipment, damaged or crippled vehicles, clothing and rations were burned yesterday because of lack of transportation to remove them from the city.

Already the roads leading south from the town were crowded with bumper-to-tailgate traffic. Through the night they crawled like a giant illuminated snail carrying men and supplies out of reach of the Reds.

Thousands of refugees crossed the Taedong river on flimsy wooden rafts, ramshackle boats or practically anything that would float.

There were still thousands of persons on the north bank of the river with little chance of getting across. Military authorities confiscated the ferries to cut down on congestion of the main road to the south.

About 1,000 North Koreans carried the sick and wounded from Pyongyang's hospitals. Another 1,500 anti-Communist North Korean civilians were also being evacuated for fear of revenge against them by the Reds.

And still the retreating forces were boiling down the road that six weeks ago was the triumphant line of advance for the United Nations.

and it was towed out by the wrecker, and the child eventually got to the hospital.

Sid Lockley, Bob Morrison, and Dr. A. L. Hoffmaster, travelled northern style to reach a family of elderly folks who were marooned and ill, along the old Youngstown carline, west of the city. Donning snow shoes, they carried food and medical supplies in knapsacks on their backs to the stricken ones.

More Snow Damage

Additional snow damage occurred Saturday, when the center section of the roof of the Scarazzo building, at 28-30 South Mercer street, collapsed under the weight of the snow. Central firemen were called to the scene, when it was reported that it was feared someone was buried underneath the debris, but found this was not the case.

Some damage to the roof of the First Christian church, on the Diamond, was also discovered Saturday, a small section in the rear having been damaged.

Many catch basin covers have been damaged by snow removal trucks and bulldozers, it is found, and a great amount of repair work will have to be done by the city to repair this damage.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Prices Lower

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(INS)—The stock market cracked 1 to more than 3 points today under nervous selling touched off by the far east war crisis.

There was a heavy accumulation of week-end offerings on hand as the market opened and this was reflected in sharp initial declines on large transactions. General Motors was down ⅞ at 45¼ on a block of 10,000 shares, and Republic Steel was off 2⅝ at 39 on 8,000 shares. The tape was behind for most of the first half hour.

Curb stocks were weak. Cities Service, Aluminum Company and Ford of Canada A were down 1½ points each.

Bonds moved lower with rail issues under the heaviest pressure.

Commodities were mostly lower. Cotton slumped as much as $5.10 a bale and rubber dropped the daily limit of 4 cents a pound. Wheat and corn held narrowly.
